The Crusading Guide Ghana:

The Social Problems of Children in Sub-Saharan Africa Jerry Hollingsworth, 2013-01-04 Today in Sub Saharan Africa the HIV AIDS pandemic is creating millions of AIDS orphans who languish away in orphanages that lack the resources to take care of them Millions of other children are living on the streets trying to survive on their own leaving them vulnerable to unscrupulous individuals who are exploiting them for the sex tourism business or recruiting them into hazardous labor situations that injure or maim them Other vulnerable children are abducted into the military as child soldiers and forced to commit horrific crimes that will haunt them forever The educational system in Sub Saharan Africa continues to decline as resources dwindle along with education expenditures and governments spend more money on ammunition than books As the AIDS epidemic spreads across the continent of Africa the numbers of professionals such as doctors nurses and teachers are dwindling leaving the educational and medical communities weakened Meanwhile the growth and development of Africa continues to stagnate More and more failed social policies surface from the Western world such as forced austerity measures from the IMF and the World Bank along with the Structural Adjustment Programs that hinder further growth and prosperity on the continent The Social Problems of Children in Sub Saharan Africa identifies and describes the numerous problems that children in Sub Saharan Africa are facing today The author has lived in Ghana West Africa and has used an ethnographic approach in order to better understand some of the most critical problems concerning children in the poorest region on earth Sub Saharan Africa

The Politics of Government-Business Relations in Ghana, 1982-2008 D. Opoku, 2015-10-14 Since the early 1980s the World Bank backed by aid donor countries has been involved in a determined effort to stimulate capitalist growth in Africa by prescribing a set of orthodox neoliberal economic policies Using Ghana as a case study this book considers why this is the case

Ghana's New Christianity Paul Gifford, 2004 In sub Saharan Africa over the last two decades there has been an explosion of Christianity This book sets out to identify its particular character focusing on a particular place Greater Accra the capital of Ghana Paul Gifford examines a wide range of Accra's new churches giving priority to mega churches Every dimension discourse theological vision worship rituals music media involvement use of the Bible conventions finances clientele is analysed Gifford argues that this Christianity is not otherworldly its emphasis is on success achievement wealth here and now Yet within this general orientation there is diversity At one end of the spectrum are churches that building on the traditional religious imagination see demonic forces everywhere blocking personal success In the churches the key factor is the special man of God who is understood to have the anointing to conquer these forces to reverse the curse that is holding the believer back At the other end is a strain of this new Christianity that discounts spiritual forces and sees victory resulting from the believer's own education and skills and from transforming culture The book also joins the debate over the role of this Christianity in modernizing economic and political structures It sets the scene by describing Ghana's political and economic situation in the decades when these churches were proliferating and outlines the current debate on the reasons for Africa's economic plight. It is argued that although focusing on success and wealth can provide motivation in circumstances where it is so easy to despair, the pervasive emphasis on miracles militates against any natural fostering of a new work ethic. As for their political role, some churches are easily co-opted, others challenge the government, but for spiritual reasons that provide little incentive to grapple with issues of governance. By contrast, Gifford finds one important church encouraging change of the entire political culture. No other book has set forth the complex nature of Africa's new Christianity with such clarity or offered such a searching analysis of its power to tackle Africa's predicament.

Ghana Kwame Boafo-Arthur, 2013-07-04 Ghana has witnessed a revolution through the ballot box since its return to constitutional rule in 1993. Yet this period of sustained democratic government in an era of globalization and liberal triumphalism has brought with it new demands. How has Ghana faced up to the problems of institution building, state-market relations and democratic leadership? Can it deal with the challenges posed by security, human rights and foreign policy in the twenty-first century? This unique collection interrogates all these issues and assesses the future of the democratic experiment in one of sub-Saharan Africa's rare islands of peace. In doing so, it provides an invaluable guide to Ghana's political past, present and future. Ghana Presidential and Parliamentary Elections, 7 December 2012 Commonwealth Observer Group, 2013. The Report of the Commonwealth Observer Group for the Ghana Presidential and Parliamentary elections held 7 December 2012. The Group was led by HE Dr Pakalitha Mosisili MP, former Prime Minister of Lesotho, and comprised thirteen eminent persons in total. The Group found that the elections were credible and highlighted the role of the Electoral Commission. It offered a series of recommendations to help improve some technical aspects of the process and also the environment in which elections occur. Critical Perspectives in Politics and Socio-Economic Development in Ghana

Wisdom J. Tettey, Korbala P. Puplampu, Bruce J. Berman, 2003-01-01 This volume provides a comprehensive and integrated analysis of contemporary Ghanaian politics and economy and their relationship to culture. It combines rich recent empirical material with sophisticated theoretical analyses, bringing fresh and unique interdisciplinary perspectives to bear on the issues examined. A Decade of Democracy in Africa, 2002-10-31 The democratic experiment in Africa has had a checkered history over the past ten years. Analysts of this process tend to focus on the political and legal space instead of including broader issues such as norms, generational change and class. Authors in this volume argue that African civil society is less likely to support democracy; they measure African democracy by the women's rights movements, unravel the mythical hope of technology and point to ideological capitulation necessary for a limited transition. Past experience from Botswana, South Africa, Ghana, Kenya, Uganda and Madagascar will give the readers an understanding of democracy in Africa. Contributors are Judith van Allen, Lisa Aubrey, Nigel Gibson, Richard R. Marcus, Kenneth Mease, Stephen N. Ndegwa, Stephen Orvis, Dan Ottemoeller and Wisdom J. Tettey. Understanding World Media Dr Kumar Kaustubha, Dr Ajitabh & Mudita Agnihotri Sant, 2021-08-14 Understanding World Media. Understanding World Media sets out to mirror world media and the freedom it

enjoyed across the globe in about 200 countries While media is an important part of academic research concerns have been raised globally on its content intent and freedom of expression To the extent that even as per the data compiled by Reporters Without Borders democratic India ranks below par at 138 in the World Press Freedom Index 2018 out of the 180 listed nations Though it is a question of debate and discussions to what extent media in India is considered free or under censorship When India is emerging as a global power with over 55 percent of its population is under 35 years of age interest in the world community and media is growing leaps and bounds It is in this context that this book magnifies its mirror to bring facts about the status and understanding of media in the world For any book like this it will always have its challenges to cover subjects like media in a nutshell but for today this book is timely and relevant It is a balanced and thoughtful effort to present such a comprehensive book in a crisp and concise manner as it is difficult to get experts on various countries to write on their respective domains We have put our utmost effort to consolidate all necessary information and analysis required for this collection and we are very hopeful that it will serve its purpose fulfill the void and information gap about the world media Understanding World Media is structured around two clear themes the status of media in various countries and its freedom of expression It is divided into five parts covering vast geographical areas in Asia Europe the Americas Africa and Australia Oceania

Daily Graphic Yaw Boadu-Ayebofoh, 2005-12-22 Ghana: 50 Year of Independence Joseph Godson Amamoo, 2011-12-16 A comprehensive review of major political events in Ghana with critical comments during the past 50 years The book takes off where its predecessor The New Ghana the international best seller published in 1958 Ghana's first independence anniversary ended Absorbing balanced and detailed it is nevertheless controversial and challenging Unique for its vignettes on all the major personalities of the five decades that the author has been privileged to interact with The book challenges certain myths about the Trans Atlantic Slave Trade The slow rate of development in Ghana in particular and Africa in general the reasons why Ghana despite its vast natural and mineral resources is still a developing country Traditions and customs which negate the rapid development of Ghana and robustly reviewed What killed Nkrumah Was Nkrumah anti white These are only a few of the interesting questions that the book attempts to answer The book which is unique in many ways ends on a note of hope and expectation that the next 5 years would be better than the last half century Only time can tell

Daily Graphic Ransford Tetteh, 2011-02-09 Good Pastors, Bad Pastors Dela Quampah, 2014-08-20 The emergence of Pentecostalism in Ghana has attracted a massive following and generated institutions that have significantly impacted Christian discourse and national life The movement has produced prominent leaders who have developed exemplary Christian education programs and generated volumes of Christian literature unprecedented in Ghanaian Christianity Nevertheless public opinion often upbraids church leaders for unethical conduct Despite the concern for high moral standards set by Pentecostal church polity and ministerial ethical codes reports of Pentecostal ministerial misconduct appear regularly in the media Although congregation members and perceptive public observers appreciate the constructive moral impact of Pentecostal ministers instances of promiscuity power abuse financial misappropriation and superstition reveal a gap between ethical ideals and practice As this research reveals factors behind unethical ministerial conduct include inadequate training poor accountability and a general low level of ethical reflection Good Pastors Bad Pastors suggests that a multidimensional approach of responsible reportage emphatic moral education appropriate but sympathetic response to moral failure and peer review accountability could help uphold a higher standard of ministerial ethics

The Corruption Notebooks 2009 Global Integrity, Hazel Feigenblatt, 2011

Responsible Journalism and Quest for Professional Standards in Ghana Diedong, Africanus Lewil, 2017-10-22 Ghana has a diverse and vibrant media landscape that includes state and privately owned television and radio stations and several independent newspapers and magazines This book looks at media ethics from the perspective of engendering journalistic responsibility and the role of journalists in improving journalistic standards The primary focus is on journalists within the Ghanaian context This book will enrich discourse on Ghana has a diverse and vibrant media landscape that includes state and privately owned television and radio stations and several independent newspapers and magazines This book looks at media ethics from the perspective of engendering journalistic responsibility and the role of journalists in improving journalistic standards The primary focus is on journalists within the Ghanaian context This book will enrich discourse on finding realistic ways and means of establishing journalistic standards in the Ghanaian media landscape

Neoliberal Frontiers Brenda Chalfin, 2010-07-15 In Neoliberal Frontiers Brenda Chalfin presents an ethnographic examination of the day to day practices of the officials of Ghana s Customs Service exploring the impact of neoliberal restructuring and integration into the global economy on Ghanaian sovereignty From the revealing vantage point of the Customs office Chalfin discovers a fascinating inversion of our assumptions about neoliberal transformation bureaucrats and local functionaries government offices checkpoints and registries are typically held to be the targets of reform but Chalfin finds that these figures and sites of authority act as the engine for changes in state sovereignty Ghana has served as a model of reform for the neoliberal establishment making it an ideal site for Chalfin to explore why the restructuring of a state on the global periphery portends shifts that occur in all corners of the world At once a foray into international political economy politics and political anthropology Neoliberal Frontiers is an innovative interdisciplinary leap forward for ethnographic writing as well as an eloquent addition to the literature on postcolonial Africa

Gender, Social Change and Spiritual Power Jane E. Soothill, 2007 Against a backdrop of debate concerning the role of Pentecostalism as a mediator of modernity this book examines the interaction between charismatic Christianity spiritual power and gendered social change in contemporary Ghana

The Economy of Ghana Sixty Years After Independence Ernest Aryeetey, S. M. Ravi Kanbur, 2017 This volume assesses the challenges facing Ghana s economy as it enters its seventh decade and the nation heads towards three quarters of a century of independence

The Press and Political Culture in Ghana Jennifer Hasty, 2005-04-28 In The Press and Political Culture in Ghana Jennifer Hasty looks at the practices of journalism and newsmaking at privately owned and state operated daily newspapers in Ghana Hasty decodes the styles and uncovers the strategies that characterize Ghana's major printed news media focusing on the differences between news generated by the state and news that comes from private sources Not only are the angles radically different but so are ways of gathering the news assigning beats using sources and writing articles For all its differences in presentation however Hasty shows that the news in Ghana projects a unified voice that is the result of a contentious and multifarious process that joins Ghanaians in global national and local debates An important engagement with the production of news and news media this book also explores questions about the relationship of popular culture to state politics the expression of civic culture and the role of the media in constituting national and cultural identities

Oiling the Urban Economy Franklin Obeng-Odoom, 2014-06-13 This book presents a critical analysis of the resource curse doctrine and a review of the international evidence on oil and urban development to examine the role of oil on property development and rights in West Africa's new oil metropolis Sekondi Takoradi Ghana It seeks answers to the following questions In what ways did the city come into existence What changes to property rights are oil prospecting explorations and production introducing in the 21st century How do the effects vary across different social classes and spectrums To what extent are local and national institutions able to shape restrain and constrain trans national oil related accumulation and its effects on property in land property in housing residential leisure and commercial and property in labour How do these processes connect with the entire urban system in Ghana This book shows how institutions of varying degrees of power interact to govern land housing and labour in the city and analyses how efficient sustainable and equitable the outcomes of these interactions are It is a comprehensive account of the tensions and contradictions in the main sectors of the urban economy society and environment in the booming Oil City and will be of interest to urban economists development economists real estate economists Africanists and urbanists
