Mediacology Antonio Lopez, 2008 Traditional media literacy models are mostly left brained inherited from the legacy of alphabetic literacy the Gutenberg press revolution and industrial mass media production New digital media radically alter the environment their nonlinear multisensory field like properties are more right brain oriented Consequently rather than focus exclusively on deconstructing the products of design objects such as an advertisement text digital learning should respond to the design of the system itself including cultural and cognitive bias Mediacology proposes a design for pattern approach called media permaculture which restructures media literacy to be in sync with new media practices connected with sustainability and the perceptual functions of the right brain hemisphere In the same way that permaculture approaches gardening by establishing the natural parameters of its ecological niche media permaculture explores the individual s mediacological niche in the context of knowledge communities By applying bioregional thinking to the symbolic order media permaculture redresses the standard one size fits all literacy model by taking into account diverse cognitive strategies and emerging convergence media practices Antonio Lopez applies a practical knowledge of alternative media cross cultural communication and ecology to build a meaningful theory of media education The Everyday Advocate Ross

Murray, 2023-05-09 As Christians we are called and anointed to bring good news to the poor release to the captives and freedom to the oppressed In The Everyday Advocate Ross Murray helps Christians explore our individual callings to justice and start taking practical steps to live that out The Everyday Advocate is for the layperson who feels overwhelmed by the world s troubles and helpless to address them It is for the person who goes to church hears the gospel seeks to apply it to their lives and yearns to be connected to or create a community that amplifies their voice and actions It is also for pastors and faith leaders who want to help people think through their calling to advocacy and help connect them with the communities that can use their gifts and talents Murray builds on two questions Where is God And what are we called to do Viewing every action and phenomenon as theological he stakes out values and shows readers how to work toward those values He also distinguishes between direct service and cultural change discussing the balance between them and acknowledging both are needed Drawing on his own experience and exercising his pastoral spirit Murray encourages readers to discern their own call to advocacy learn to identify injustices that still reign and respond faithfully by incorporating big and small actions into their everyday lives Poetry & Commons Daniel Eltringham, 2022-05-13 Winner of the ASLE UKI Book Prize 2023 The commons and enclosure are among the most vital ways of thinking about poetry today posing urgent ecological and political questions about land and resource ownership and use Poetry Commons is the first study to read postwar and contemporary poetry through this lens by putting it in dialogue with the Romantic experience of agrarian dispossession Employing an innovative transhistorical structure the book demonstrates how radical Anglophone poetries since 1960 have returned to the enclosure of the commons in response to political and ecological crises It identifies a commons turn in contemporary lyric that contests the new enclosures of globalized capital and resource extraction In lucid close readings of a rich field of experimental poetries associated with the British Poetry Revival as well as from Canada and the United States it analyses a landscape poetics of enclosure in relationship with Romantic verse Canonical Romantic poetry by Wordsworth and Clare is understood through the fine grain textures of the period s vernacular and radical verse and discourse around enclosure which the book demonstrates contain the seeds of neoliberal political economy Engaging with the work of Anne Lise Fran ois and Anna Tsing Poetry Commons theorizes commoning as marking out subsistence rhythms of resource which articulate plural irregular and tentative relations between human and nonhuman lifeworlds

Guiding God's Marriage Courtney Ann Irby, 2024-05-14 Examines how religious leaders use premarital counseling to influence how we view intimacy It is well known that the institution of marriage has changed dramatically in the past few decades. However, very little research has focused on the role of religious institutions in helping couples form and maintain their relationships. Guiding God's Marriage offers an examination of Christian marriage preparation programs, exploring their efforts to stabilize the institution of marriage and highlighting the tension between individualism and community in people's relational lives. Marriage preparation programs offer a useful lens through which to trace shifts in both religious and family institutions because they set out clear and intentional articulations of marriage ideologies and gendered relationship scripts by faith communities. By documenting the changes in content and practices of Christian premarital education along with its advice regarding what makes a good marriage, the book charts the ways that religious communities have been transformed by and have helped to contribute to the individualization of faith and relationships. Featuring archival research as well as first-hand observations of four marriage preparation courses (two Protestant and two Catholic) along with seventy interviews with participating couples and leaders of these and other programs, the book offers a rare view of visions about how to realize a successful and faith-filled relationship. This examination of marriage classes offers key insight into how religious communities have responded to cultural changes in marriage, gender, sexuality, and intimacy. Encouraging Transnational Learning Through Virtual Exchange in Global Teacher Education Slapac, Alina, Huertas-Abril, Cristina A., 2024-05-07. What if adolescents aren't bored with preaching? What if they have and are interacting with preaching in complex various ways that have escaped the attention of adult listeners and preachers What if their own preaching informed the ways adults think about Christian faith and theories practices of preaching While much recent discussion in preaching revolves around underrepresented groups the relationship between adolescent youth and preaching remains largely unexplored Youthful Preaching brings youth into contemporary conversations about preaching by listening to their voices and by advocating for communities of faith and practice to seek ways to reimagine renew and strengthen the relationships between youth adults and preaching Stick Together and Come Back Home Patrick Lopez-Aguado, 2018-01-23 The distinction between the consequences of an act and the act itself is supposed to define the fight between consequentialism and deontological moralities This book though sympathetic to consequentialism aims less at taking sides in that debate than at clarifying the terms in which it is conducted It aims to help the reader to think more clearly about some aspects of human conduct especially the workings of the by locution and some distinctions between making and allowing between act and upshot and between foreseeing and intending the doctrine of double effect It argues that moral philosophy would go better if the concept of the act itself were dropped from its repertoire Book Keywords action allowing consequences consequentialism deontological ethics double effect ethics intention Provided by publisher Teaching for Diversity and Social Justice Maurianne Adams, Lee Anne Bell, Pat Griffin, 2007-05-11 For nearly a decade Teaching for Diversity and Social Justice has been the definitive sourcebook of theoretical foundations and curricular frameworks for social justice teaching practice This thoroughly revised second edition continues to provide teachers and facilitators with an accessible pedagogical approach to issues of oppression in classrooms Building on the groundswell of interest in social justice education the second edition offers coverage of current issues and controversies while preserving the hands on format and inclusive content of the original Teaching for Diversity and Social Justice presents a well constructed foundation for engaging the complex and often daunting problems of discrimination and inequality in American society This book includes a CD ROM with extensive appendices for participant handouts and facilitator preparation Multiliteracies in World Language Education Yuri Kumagai, Ana López-Sánchez, Sujane Wu, 2015-10-05 Putting a multiliteracies framework at the center of the world language curriculum this volume brings together college level curricular innovations and classroom projects that address differences in meaning and worldviews expressed in learners primary and target languages Offering a rich understanding of languages genres and modalities as socioculturally situated semiotic systems it advocates an effective pedagogy for developing learners abilities to operate between languages Chapters showcase curricula that draw on a multiliteracies framework and present various classroom projects that develop aspects of multiliteracies for language learners A discussion of the theoretical background and historical development of the pedagogy of multiliteracies and its relevance to the field of world language education positions this book within the broader literature on foreign language education As developments in globalization accountability and austerity challenge contemporary academia and the current structure of world language programs this book shows how the implementation of a multiliteracies based approach brings coherence to language programs and how the framework can help to accomplish the goals of higher education in general and of language education in particular
