The Pleasures of Memory Sarah Winter,2015-08-03 How did this nineteenth century novelist change the way we think A fine contribution to the sociology of literature Highly recommended Choice What are the sources of the commonly held presumption that reading literature should make people more just humane and sophisticated Looking at literary history in relation to the cultural histories of reading publishing and education The Pleasures of Memory illuminates the ways in which Dickens s serial fiction shaped not only the popular practice of reading for pleasure and instruction but also the school subject we now know as English Sarah Winter shows how Dickens s serial fiction instigated specific reading practices by reworking the conventions of religious didactic tracts from which most Victorians learned to read Incorporating an influential associationist psychology of learning founded on the cumulative functioning of memory Dickens s serial novels consistently led readers to reflect on their reading as a form of shared experience Dickens s celebrity authorship Winter argues represented both a successful marketing program for popular fiction and a cultural politics addressed to a politically unaffiliated social activist Victorian readership As late nineteenth century educational reforms consolidated British and American readers into mass populations served by state school systems Dickens s beloved novels came to embody the socially inclusive and humanizing goals of democratic education

Consuming Pleasures Jennifer Hayward,2014-07-11 To be continued Whether these words fall at the end of The Empire Strikes Back or a TV commercial flirtation between coffee loving neighbors true fans find them impossible to resist Ever since the 1830s when Charles Dickens s Pickwick Papers enticed a mass market for fiction the serial has been a popular means of snaring avid audiences In Consuming Pleasures jennifer Hayward establishes serial fiction as a distinct genre one defined by the activities of its audience rather than by the formal qualities of the text Ranging from installment novels mysteries and detective fiction of the 1800s to the television and movie series comics and advertisements of the twentieth century serials are loosely linked by what may be called after Wittgenstein family resemblances These traits include intertwined subplots diverse casts of characters dramatic plot reversals suspense and such narrative devices as long lost family members and evil twins Hayward chooses four texts Dickens s novel Our Mutual Friend 1864 65 Milton Caniff s comic strip Terry and the Pirates 1934 46 and the soap operas All My Children 1970 and One Life to Live 1968 to represent the evolution of serial fiction as a genre and to analyze the peculiar draw serials have upon their audiences Although the serial has enjoyed great marketplace success traditional literary and social critics have denounced its ties to mass culture claiming it preys upon passive fans But Hayward argues that active serial audiences have developed identifiable strategies of consumption such as collaborative reading and attempts to shape the production process Fun ,1863 Daily Graphic Elvis D.

Aryeh,1997-06-20 The Pleasures of Crime David Platten,2011-12 For 150 years the French public and literati have enjoyed a love affair with crime fiction This book investigates the nature of this relationship and how through periods of dramatic social and political change in France it has flourished It challenges the conventional view of a popular genre feeding a niche market depicting crime fiction instead as a field of creative endeavour which has gradually matured into one of considerable literary fertility By inviting us to share secrets and crack codes creating suspense and at times not shirking from presenting horrific events in graphic language the crime story brings into play the intellect and emotions of its readership This book explores both this intrinsic literary value of the crime novel and its extrinsic witness to historical events and cultural trends arguing that these apparently distinct aspects are in fact dynamic interrelated parts of the same whole This blend of cultural history with literary analysis allows for the discussion of themes such as politics memory the urban environment and youth cultures mixed with case studies of major French crime writers including Gaston Leroux Georges Simenon Jean Patrick Manchette Daniel Pennac and Fred Vargas Video Hounds Golden Movie Retriever 1993
