The Penitent Erotic Romance Short Stories:

The Realist Short Story of the Powerful Glimpse Kerry McSweeney, 2007 An aesthetic perspective on the short fiction of Chekhov Joyce Hemingway O Connor and Carver Taking a distinctively aesthetic approach to the genre of realist short fiction Kerry McSweeney clusters the work of five masters Anton Chekhov James Joyce Ernest Hemingway Flannery O Connor and Raymond Carver to offer a poetics of the form for students and scholars At the center of this argument is the notion that the realist short story is a glimpse powerful and tightly focused into a world that the writer must precisely craft and in which the reader must fully invest Selecting writers from different generational national and cultural backgrounds McSweeney chooses writers based on their commitment to the realist representation of experience and their shared belief in the importance and efficacy of the short story form By considering their efforts in tandem he develops a means to assess the strategies and claims of realist short fiction McSweeney demonstrates that when the comments these writers have made about their work are assembled and critically scrutinized the result is an aesthetic critical model as opposed to more interpretative models that focus attention on the determination or indetermination of meanings He suggests that a fully adequate reading of a realist short story involves the integration of three components the enjoyment and contemplation of the story in and of itself affective receptivity or a response to the story's emotional content and cognitive activity or the reflective consideration of the story's conceptual implications In individual chapters on Chekhov Joyce Hemingway O Connor and Carver this presentational model is applied to widely known and often anthologized readings from each writer McSweeney brings into sharp focus the distinctive features of each piece makes qualitative discriminations and assesses the profitability of other critical models He concludes with an invitation to test the mettle of his approach in reading other realist short story writers

Crime Fiction in the City Lucy Andrew, Catherine Phelps, 2013-04-30 Crime Fiction in the City Capital Crimes expands upon previous studies of the urban space and crime by reflecting on the treatment of the capital city a repository of authority national identity and culture within crime fiction This wide ranging collection looks at capital cities across Europe from the more traditional centres of power Paris Rome and London to Europe's most northern capital Stockholm and also considers the newly devolved capitals Dublin Edinburgh and Cardiff The texts under consideration span the nineteenth century city mysteries to

The Jewish Novel in the Ancient World Lawrence M. Wills, 2015-03-11 Lawrence M Wills here traces the literary evolution of popular Jewish narratives written during the period 200 BCE 100 CE In many ways these narratives were similar to Greek and Roman novels of the same era as well as to popular novels of indigenous peoples within the Roman Empire Yet as a group they demonstrated a variety of novelistic innovations the inclusion of adventurous episodes passages of description and of dialogue concern with psychological motivation and the introduction of female characters Wills focuses on five novels Greek Esther Greek Daniel Judith Tobit and Joseph and Aseneth Drawing on a wide range of theoretical works he delineates the techniques and motifs of the Jewish novel shows how the genre both initiated and distanced itself from nonfictional prose such as historical and philosophical writing discusses its relation to Greco Roman romance and describes the social conditions governing its emergence and reception Wills also places the novels in historical context situating them between the Hebrew Bible on the one hand and subsequent developments in Jewish and Christian literature on the other Wills sees the Jewish novel as a popular form of writing that provided amusement for an expanding audience of Jewish entrepreneurs merchants and bureaucrats In an important sense he maintains it was a product of the novelistic impulse the impulse to transfer oral stories to a written medium to reach a more literate audience

Cruising Modernism Michael Trask, 2018-05-31 Modern society Michael Trask argues in this incisive and original book chose to couch class difference in terms of illicit sexuality Trask demonstrates how sexual science's concept of erotic perversion mediated the writing of both literary figures and social theorists when it came to the innovative and unsettling social arrangements of the early twentieth century Trask focuses on the James brothers in a critique of pragmatism and anti immigrant sentiment shows the influence of behavioral psychology on Gertrude Stein's work uncovers a sustained reflection on casual labor in Hart Crane's lyric poetry and traces the identification of working class Catholics with deviant passions in Willa Cather's fiction Finally Trask examines how literary leftists borrowed the antiprostitution rhetoric of Progressive era reformers to protest the ascendancy of consumerism in the 1920s Viewing class as a restless and unstable category Trask contends American modernist writers appropriated sexology's concept of evasive unmoored desire to account for the seismic shift in social relations during the Progressive era and beyond Looking closely at the fraught ideological space between real and perceived class differences Cruising Modernism discloses there a pervasive representation of sexuality as well

The Literature of German Romanticism Dennis F. Mahoney, 2004 Sharply focused essays on the most significant aspects of German Romanticism This volume of sharply focused essays by an international team of scholars deals not only with the most significant literary philosophical and cultural aspects of German Romanticism one of the most influential albeit highly controversial movements in the history of German literature but also with the history and status of scholarship on the literature of the period The introduction and first section establish an overall framework by placing German Romanticism within a European context that includes its English counterpart Goethe and Schiller are considered as are the Jena Romantics The second section is organized according to the traditional distinctions between epic dramatic and lyric modes of writing while realizing that particularly in the Romantic novel there was an attempt to blend these three A final group of essays focuses on German

Sicker, Moshe Gold, 2017-01-18 An indispensable resource for scholars and students of James Joyce Joyce Studies Annual gathers essays by foremost scholars and emerging voices in the field The Mysteries of Religion Stephen R. L. Clark, 2017-11-28 Philosophy of religion too often confines itself to a few well worn philosophical puzzles such as the proof of God's existence and overworked examples which are usually drawn from Western Christianity This book considers religion practice and expression in a number of cultural contexts both familiar and exotic from sacred texts to rites of passage from the British Israel movement to spiritism and Aztec devil worship The author argues that although there are many points on which religious persons disagree and no definite way of settling these disagreements Neoplatonic theory about the world and our place in it does at least provide the context for debate Is religion an irrational human attempt to disguise an essentially meaningless universe Or is irreligion itself unreasonable and a spiritual universe the best explanation Using a wide range of examples The Mysteries of Religion provides an invaluable philosophical background for a discussion of such fundamental questions The Feminist Encyclopedia of Spanish Literature Janet Pérez, Maureen Ihrie, 2002
