Vincent van Gogh: ARNOLD, 2013-12-01 As a five year old I encountered a picture of a young man in a rakish hat and a yellow coat on the wall of a large classroom There was something instantly intriguing about the image but it was also puzzling because it represented neither politician nor prince the usual fare for Australian school decorations I was eventually told that this was a reproduction of a painting the artist was Vincent van Gogh and that the subject was some young Frenchman On special days we assembled in that room and during the next several years I found myself gazing beyond visiting speakers at the fellow in the yellow jacket It was almost another fifty years before I felt properly conversant with the portrait and realized that van Gogh's subject Armand Roulin was seventeen at the time of the original painting and had died at seventy four during my schoolboy contemplations In the interim my enjoyment of the works of the Impressionists and Post Impressionists had grown and I occasionally ran into the name of Dr Gachet Vincent's last attending physician in books and catalog essays The doctor was my entree to the overlapping charms of medical and art histories In 1987 I had the good fortune to participate as a biochemist in the centenary celebration of the Pasteur Institut in Paris

The Spheres of Heaven D.C. Johnson, 2015-07-28 The working title of my novel was Metamorphosis for transmutation was the vehicle by which I intended to explore the concept of identity There is abundant research on the effects of nature and nurture and their repercussions on personality development It is well documented that our genes dictate our traits and that our exposure to experiences in the world mould

our attitudes principles and morals which in turn enable the intellect to forge and govern our attitudes and behaviour Our identities the perceptions others have of them and the perception we have of the perception others have of them carry a huge burden The weak often struggle with the paranoia of self identity the strong appear to glide through life unaffected but often paddle furiously in deep running waters My thesis embraces a belief in universal self doubt and the tenuous grasp we have on the nature and structure of our existence and on how we define ourselves within this context It explores by means of control experiment transmutation the reference points of our existence both the unwarranted pride and abhorrence we recognise in ourselves and above all the enigma that is our identity The Rescue of Vincent Bob Doerr,2014-10-28 The Rescue of Vincent Book 2 in The Enchanted Coin Series is a 31 000 word fantasy adventure targeted at Middle Grade readers Imagine being a fourteen year old again and finding a coin that seems to give off a light of its own The coin has your name on it and instructs you to toss it into a fountain next to the Tree of Life That s what happens in The Rescue of Vincent and what starts my protagonist off on a magical adventure that many young boys and girls would love to have This book is G rated

A College Boy Bernard James Reilly,1899 Vincent Price: A Daughter's Biography Victoria Price,2018-10-17 The inside story of the legendary actor s 65 year career from radio to classic movies and horror films to Broadway and his family life Entertaining and touching The New York Times The Life and Times of Queen Victoria Robert Wilson,1891 Vincent Van Gogh Philip Callow,2023-11-14 Published on the hundredth anniversary of Van Gogh s death this is the first full length biography of this undying man in twenty years and surely the most comprehensive account to date Mr Callow treats more searchingly than any previous work the development of Van Gogh s genius and his emergence as an artist after early struggles to find a vocation first in the world of art dealing and later as an evangelical missionary among Belgian miners Using the skills and psychological insights of an accomplished novelist and drawing upon new Van Gogh materials which have surfaced in the last two decades Mr Callow sets a turbulent life story firmly in historical context including Vincent s desperate attempts to accept his repressive religious upbringing and his unhappy experiences in love The story is filled with paradoxes and crushing failures ending in suicide that was to lead to enormous posthumous success Through Mr Callow s book we can see Van Gogh s life and work in terms of tumult of a legend breaking out of the triumph and confusion of 19th century culture while representing it uniquely It is perhaps the story of a saint certainly a hero of art Loss and Gain John Henry Newman,1893 Benevolent Institutions, 1904 United States.
