Evaluation for an Equitable Society Stewart I. Donaldson, Robert Picciotto, 2016-04-01 Governments and organizations of all shapes and sizes espouse values of equity and social justice Yet there are many examples of unfair social arrangements and employment conditions dysfunctional government practices and growing income inequality in both developed and developing countries worldwide The profession and transdiscipline of evaluation is well equipped to address issues of inequality and social injustice but until recently has been much more focused on primary stakeholder and donor satisfaction being as useful as possible to funders of interventions and evaluations and accountability concerns The authors in this volume challenge the field of evaluation to become more concerned about using evaluation to develop more equitable organizations governments and societies Leading evaluation theorists and practitioners including Michael Scriven Jennifer Greene Thomas Schwandt Emily Gates Sandra Mathison Karen Kirkhart Saville Kushner Lois Ellin Datta Ernest House Robert Stake Patricia Rogers Robert Picciotto and Stewart Donaldson provide a range of visions for how evaluation can play a much larger role in facilitating social justice across the globe Evaluation for an Equitable Society will be of great interest to evaluation practitioners students and scholars It will be of interest to those teaching and taking introductory evaluation courses as well as advanced courses focused on improving evaluation theory and practice

Collecting, Analyzing and Reporting Data Colleen Conway, 2020 A new paperback collection of scholarship from The Oxford Handbook of Qualitative Research in American Music Education provides practical guidance to researchers embarking on qualitative data collection and analysis in the field of American music education

The Future of Evaluation in Society Stewart I. Donaldson, 2013-09-01 The impetus for this volume lives in a rich and vibrant past It is organized to honor one of the founders and most prolific contributors to the profession and transdiscipline of evaluation Professor Michael Scriven and to illuminate the future of evaluation in society Professor Scriven often shares stories of his meetings with Albert Einstein and the frame breaking evaluation revolution he has led against the value free doctrine of the social sciences Both his wide eyed graduate students and the more grizzled evaluation veterans in his professional development workshops quickly learn that Scriven is well traveled and has exchanged some of the boldest ideas and visions with the most brilliant thinkers of his time. Scriven insisted that the 2011 Stauffer Symposium and this volume be organized in that genre. He urged us to invite the most thoughtful and influential evaluation theorists and practitioners we could find to join him in a conversation about the future of evaluation in society. Scriven challenges us to examine the five great paradigm shifts that have revolutionized the foundations of evaluation and that he believes will form the basis for a much brighter future for evaluation in society. Scriven's revolutionary ideas are followed and challenged by a group of thought leaders in evaluation who do not necessarily share his views on evaluation but who have earned his deepest respect and whose evaluation work he admires, including Michael Quinn Patton, Ernest House, Daniel Stufflebeam, Robert Stake, Jennifer Greene, Karen Kirkhart, Melvin Mark Rodney Hopson, and Christina Christie. However, despite his insistence that his colleagues stay focused on the future of evaluation, you will find that many have recounted their adventures, exchanges, and debates with him over the years, as well as pointed out the many contributions that he has made to the development of evaluation and to the improvement of society through his amazing portfolio of evaluation contributions.

The Future of Evaluation in Society: A Tribute to Michael Scriven will be of great interest to evaluation scholars, practitioners, and students of evaluation. It will be appropriate for use in a wide range of evaluation courses, including Introduction to Evaluation, Evaluation Theory, and Evaluation Practice courses.

Arguments for Learning Bill Cope, Walter Feinberg, 2025-03-11. Almost every educational idea worth a thought has been considered at the University of Illinois, and anything worth trying has been tested. In this history of ideas, Bill Cope and Walter Feinberg chronicle the intellectual lives of education thinkers at the university while tracking the development of educational ideas and practices in general. Cope and Feinberg draw on conversations, narratives, and archival research that reveal how different generations explored their role in defining and carrying out the College's multifaceted mission. Their account raises critical questions about the character of learning, the aims of teaching, and the nature of teaching as a profession. At the same time, the authors address issues that range from the role of schools in fostering individual and collective identity to the introduction of computer-mediated and online learning. Cope and Feinberg examine changes in self-understanding about fundamental ideas and chart how the College evolved from its original narrow mission of training children's schoolteachers to embracing global perspectives. A wide-ranging portrait of an institution. Arguments for
