Modernising Agrifood Chains in China Scott Waldron,2010-09-13 China faces major challenges in generating viable and inclusive agricultural and rural development However rapid economic growth provides new opportunities to meet the challenges In particular the development of higher value agrifood chains provides opportunities for rural households to increase their levels of specialisation scale and incomes and for rural areas to broaden their employment and tax bases While an agricultural and rural development strategy based on upgrading agrifood chains is widely described and prescribed it has not proceeded without problems and has been the subject of little rigorous scrutiny This book presents an industry case study that draws on a novel methodological framework and reliable micro level data to provide a nuanced grounded and diachronic analysis of China s efforts to upgrade agrifood chains While China seeks to fast track the development of high value agrifood chains through interventionist policies a more viable and inclusive modernisation strategy is to incrementally develop mid value agrifood chains through facilitative policies This and other findings of the book will be of interest to policy makers researchers and development agencies working on agricultural and rural development in China and other developing and transition countries

Agrobiodiversity in Cuba Urbano Fra Paleo, Leonor Castiñeiras, 2023-09-04 This highly original volume investigates and documents the complex interactions between small family farms and Man and Biosphere Reserves in Cuba Covering over two decades of research in agriculture and biodiversity conservation in Cuba this book provides a unique case study about sustainable agriculture It shows how the agricultural biodiversity maintained in situ by family farms within those protected areas provides a strategic source of crop genetic resources including seeds and planting materials as well as agroecological knowledge and practices. Agricultural practices within and around the Biosphere Reserves have helped to promote local food security through healthier and more diverse food production while contributing to the conservation of biodiversity and of ecosystems. The book also reports on the adoption of transdisciplinary methods combining ecological, agronomic and socio-economic research along with participatory methods involving farmers in research to document ethnobotanical and farmer knowledge revealing rich spots of agrobiodiversity maintained in landscapes, seed systems and nurseries managed by farmers. It covers a range of ecosystems and biocultural landscapes from arid tropics, tropical hillsides and savannas, montane rainforests and coastal areas. It examines how family farms in diverse Cuban ecosystems use biodiversity, agro-ecological knowledge and techniques while sustaining natural and farming landscapes in a scenario of climate change, frequent disasters and socio-economic and policy changes. This book will be most suitable for those studying or interested in farming practices, biodiversity conservation, food security, agrobiodiversity and sustainable development as well as in Cuban studies.
