Ramadan Breaking Fast Calendar:

Islam, Muslims, and America Arshad Khan, 2003 Islam Muslims and America gives a sound introduction to the history of Islam's experiences with the West and the principles of Islamic teachings and in that context identifies and discusses the reasons for Muslim West alienation. It highlights both the disconnect between true Islamic beliefs and extremist actions and the failure of Americans to seek the root causes of the current anti American trend.

Time Measurement and Calendar Construction B. Richmond, 1956 Religious Calendars Emma Johnson, AI, 2025-03-06 Religious Calendars explores how religion profoundly influences our understanding of time by examining the diverse timekeeping systems used across various faiths. It reveals how calendars aren't just about marking days but are integral to defining sacred moments, festivals, and life cycle events reflecting core values and historical experiences. Delving into Jewish, Christian, Islamic, Hindu, and Buddhist traditions, the book uncovers the intricate methodologies used to reconcile lunar and solar cycles, showcasing how cultural adaptations have shaped their evolution. For example, the Jewish lunar calendar connects to agricultural cycles and historical events like Passover, while the Islamic lunar calendar dictates a fixed cycle of religious observances. This exploration isn't just historical; it extends to the modern world, considering the impact of globalization and secularization on these traditional systems. The book adopts a comparative approach, highlighting both the commonalities and differences in how cultures make sense of time within a divine context. By drawing upon primary religious texts, historical documents, and insights from fields like anthropology and astronomy, Religious Calendars provides a comprehensive and interdisciplinary perspective. The book progresses from foundational principles to detailed analyses of specific calendars, culminating in discussions about their contemporary relevance and adaptation.

Towards an Islamic Lunisolar Calendar Hisham Abad, 2021-04-10 The Calendar was invented in ancient times to allow nations to pace their economic and social activities with climatic seasons. Throughout the history of civilizations, much depended on organizing and administering an accurate calendar. Hunter-gatherers needed the calendar to predict the migrations of herds of wild animals. As humanity advanced, farming communities required calendars to predict the coming of rain or the time of the flooding of rivers. Traders and seafaring communities needed to map the best time of the year to tackle the dangers of seas when sailing far from home. In contemporary times of globalization, calendars have become even more critical in optimizing the complex supply chains of local and global production cycles. Oral traditions ascertain that the Arabs of the Arabian Peninsula used a rudimentary lunisolar calendar called in the literature the Arabian Calendar. Like with all nations, the lunisolar Arabian Calendar helped the Arabs organize their meager resources in the best ways possible. For example, research showed that the Hajj season and its pan-Arabian markets were scheduled to coincide with the date harvesting season, peaking from July to September. The abundance of the date harvest available in this period, along with assigning the concept of inviolability to the Arabian months spanning this season, allowed them to travel across Arabia to Mecca to trade in the pan-Arabian markets and to participate in the religious rituals of their pilgrimage the Hajj. It is asserted in this book that Prophet Muhammad followed the lunisolar Arabian Calendar all his life. At the end of the tenth year after he migrated from Mecca to Medina and during his Farewell Pilgrimage the Qur'an sternly abolished the process of intercalation, i.e. the Nas, the very process which allowed the Arabs to organize their various economic and religious activities. When Caliph Umar ibn al-Khattab initiated the Hijri Calendar seven years after Prophet Muhammad's death, i.e. in 17 AH, he founded it as purely lunar, which meant its months were allowed to float within the solar year. Caliph Umar is famous for his zeal in protecting the fundamental Islamic principle of monotheism. This, I show, was the reason for introducing the Hijri Calendar as purely lunar, because the Nas, i.e. Quraysh's method of intercalation, was hopelessly entangled with the polytheistic religion of Quraysh, the Prophet's tribe and the guardian of the holy places in Mecca and its environs. The harmful effects of following the purely lunar Hijri Calendar were realized from early on. But the prohibition of Nas inhibited the early Islamic caliphs from reforming the Hijri Calendar. This book explores the history of the Arabian Calendar and its intimate connection with the Hijri Calendar. The main findings of this book are as follows: 1. The main Hajj shrines in Mecca are aligned in the direction of sunrises and sunsets of the Summer Solstice day. 2. Quraysh intercalated its Arabian Calendar by forcing the Summer Solstice (SS) Day to occur within the 11th month of the Arabian Calendar, Shawwal. The Nas month was added when the onset of the SS was about to transfer to into the 11th month, Dhul-Qa'da. 3. The onset of the SS day was determined through the sunset alignment along the line joining the posts of al-Wos and al-Aqaba Jamarat and also by observing the sun rising from behind the peak of Mount Thabor from the location of the sacrificial altar of pre-Islamic Mina. 4. The Prophet arrived in his migration from Mecca to Medina on the Days of Shahr which corresponded to the dates of 8th of Rabi' al-Thani, the 10th of the Hebrew month Tishri, and to the 23rd of September 632. 5. The epoch of the Hijri Calendar must be adjusted back by two days from the epoch used so far. 6. The Farewell Pilgrimage occurred in autumn on September 4, 632 CE, not in spring on March 11, 632 CE.

Ramadan Amy Hackney Blackwell, 2009. Ramadan is the most sacred month of the year for more than one billion Muslims. This book describes the various customs and traditions of Ramadan and Eid al-Fitr celebrations in Africa, Asia, Europe, the Middle East, North America, and Oceania, and how social and political influences have shaped these observances.

Lost Calendars Kaia Stonebrook, AI, 2025-03-04. Lost Calendars explores the fascinating history of timekeeping by delving into ancient and often forgotten calendrical systems. It reveals how civilizations tracked time, embedding sophisticated science and deep cultural significance into their methods. These lost calendars offer insights into the worldviews of past societies and challenge our assumptions about the universality of time. For example, the intricate Mayan calendar system showcased remarkable mathematical precision linked to complex cosmological beliefs. Similarly, Mesopotamian calendars were closely tied to agriculture and early record-keeping practices, demonstrating the vital role of timekeeping in daily life. The book examines the technological and astronomical expertise needed to construct these calendars and their connection to social, religious, and agricultural practices. It progresses from introducing fundamental concepts like solar and lunar calendars to specific case studies ultimately discussing why these systems were abandoned due to factors like conquest or the adoption of standardized timekeeping By treating calendars as cultural artifacts Lost Calendars provides invaluable insights into the intellectual and spiritual lives of past civilizations offering alternative ways of understanding our place in the cosmos The Sacred Art of Fasting Rev.
