Surveying the Courtroom John Briscoe, 1999-08-12 An outstanding reference that demystifies the legal process for expert witnesses in land and natural resource disputes. A vast and complex body of laws surrounds the ownership and disposition of land resources today so it is no wonder that land experts who assist in land and natural resource disputes often find themselves grappling with the challenging intricacies of the modern legal process. This book offers a vital road map through the labyrinth of civil laws and procedures that professionals who assist in such cases must navigate. In Surveying the Courtroom Second Edition John Briscoe explains in plain English all pertinent rules of evidence and procedure. From the filing of a complaint to its resolution he guides you through each phase of a land or natural resource lawsuit clearly describing the land expert's role at each step along the way. He supplies numerous fascinating and instructive case studies and vignettes to illustrate his points and to better prepare you for crucial developments that may arise during the course of a trial. He also provides copious references to applicable codes, statutes, and court decisions making it easier for you to find the resources needed to verify or refute points or to arrive at a more profound understanding of a particular subject. Surveying the Courtroom Second Edition is an indispensable working resource for land surveyors, title abstractors, property appraisers, geologists, hydrologists, geographers, oceanographers, civil and environmental engineers, and all other professionals who are called upon to help courts reach decisions in land and natural resource disputes.

Mastering Formative Assessment Moves Brent Duckor, Carrie Holmberg, 2017-06-27 How do you know if students are with you at the beginning, middle, and end of a lesson? Can formative assessment offer a key to better teaching and learning during instruction? What if you could blend different formative assessment moves in your classroom with intention and care for all students to help make better instructional decisions on the fly and enjoy more teachable moments? Educators Brent Duckor and Carrie Holmberg invite you on the journey to becoming a formative assessor. They encourage you to focus on these seven research-based, high-leverage formative assessment moves: Priming (building on background knowledge and creating a formative assessment-rich, equitable classroom culture), Posing (asking questions in relation to learning targets across the curriculum that elicit Habits of Mind), Pausing (waiting after powerful questions and rich tasks to encourage more student responses by supporting them to think aloud and use speaking and listening skills related to academic language), Probing (deepening discussions, asking for elaborations, and making connections using sentence frames and starters), Bouncing (sampling student responses systematically to broaden participation, manage flow of conversation, and gather more soft data for instructional use), Tagging (describing and recording student responses without judgment and making public how students with different styles and needs approach learning in real time), and Binning (interpreting student responses with a wide range of tools, categorizing misconceptions, and using classroom-generated data to make more valid and reliable instructional decisions on next steps in the lesson and unit). Each chapter explores a classroom-tested move, including foundational research, explaining how and when to best use it, and describing what it looks like in practice. Highlights include case studies, try now tasks, and tips and advice from beginning and seasoned teachers who use these formative assessment moves in their classrooms
