Rational Governance A Plan For The 21st Century And Beyond:

Project Portfolio Management Harvey A. Levine, 2005-07-20 Project Portfolio Management PPM goes beyond the typical project management approach to offer a set of proven business practices that can help executives program managers and project managers bring projects into alignment with the strategies resources and executive oversight of the overall enterprise Step by step this book shows how to take a project from the inception of a vision to the realization of benefits to the organization Project Portfolio Management draws on project management expert Harvey A Levine s years of research and distills the knowledge and best practices from dozens of leaders in the field to show how to select and implement the projects that will garner the best results Throughout this important resource Levine tackles the many challenges associated with PPM including Ranking value and benefits Determining the size of the portfolio pipeline Assessing the impact of uncertainty on projects and portfolios Understanding the benefit and risk relationship Establishing a portfolio governance capability Managing the portfolio to maximize benefits Implementing PPM Metropolitan Governance in America Donald F. Norris, 2016-03-09 Metropolitan government and metropolitan governance have been ongoing issues for more than sixty years in the United States Based on an extensive survey and a review of existing literature this book offers a comprehensive overview of these debates It discusses how the centrifugal forces in local government and in particular local government autonomy have produced a highly fragmented governmental landscape throughout America It argues that in order for governance to occur in metropolitan areas or anywhere else for that matter there has to be some form of an actual governmental institution that possesses the power and ability to compel compliance Everything else is just some form of cooperation and while cooperation is not trivial it does not enable metropolitan areas to address the really tough and controversial issues that divide rather than unite governments in those areas The book examines the principal factors that prevent the development of either metropolitan government or metropolitan governance in the USA Norris looks at several examples where some form of metropolitan government or governance can be said to exist from voluntary cooperation the weakest to government the strongest He also examines each type of arrangement for its ability to address metropolitan wide problems and whether each type is or is not in use in the USA In sum the book uncovers the extent of metropolitan government and governance the possibility for its existence what attempts if any have been made in the past and the problems and issues that have arisen due to the lack of adequate metropolitan governance 21st Century Management: A Reference Handbook Charles Wankel, 2008 Ordered as part of a set on ID 7574134 Global Networks of Power: Volume One Garrison C. The varied topics presented in these symposium proceedings represent the diverse nature of the Bitterroot Ecosystem Management Research Project BEMRP Separated into six sections the papers cover the different themes researched by BEMRP collaborators as well as brief overviews of five other ecosystem management projects The sections are Understanding the Ecosystem Its Parts and Processes Understanding the People and Their Relationship to the Ecosystem Implementation for Specific Landscape Areas Overviews of Other Ecosystem Management Research Projects in the West Fieldtrip Abstracts and Poster Session Abstracts The papers presented here are from a symposium held in order to summarize research conducted under the first five year charter for BEMRP The symposium was held 1999 May 18 20 in Missoula Montana for interested public land managers and researchers Beyond Reductionism Katharine Farrell, Tommaso Luzzati, Sybille van den Hove, 2013-05-07 This is a book about the work of scientists in the era of the Anthropocene where human beings appear to have become a driving force in the evolution of the planet It is a diverse collection of empirical methodological and theoretical chapters concerned with the practice of interdisciplinary social ecological systems research The aim of the contributors is to give the reader an appreciation for the range and complexity of the challenges faced by researchers research institutions and wider communities trying to make sense of the causes and consequences of the this new era of global environmental change The tragedy of the Anthropocene of the large scale anthropogenic habitat destruction and planet wide impacts of anthropogenic climate change is not that science has failed humanity but rather that it has served humanity all too well making possible in just a few hundred years volumes and scales of human activity far exceeding anything ever seen before Coming to terms with that success was the aim of the 1969 Alpbach Symposium from which this book draws its name where contributors including Friedrich Hayek and Ludwig von Bertalanffy asked themselves what theory practices and standards are required to move beyond reductionism Like those from 1969 the answers presented in this collection are hugely diverse ranging from PhD students concerned with research methods and institutional obstacles to mid career scholars presenting their innovative beyond reductionism research methods to emeritus professors looking back over what has been achieved in the past 30 years and suggesting where things might go from here All the contributors begin from the premise that the challenges of the Anthropocene can only be successfully met if interdisciplinary research effectively brings together social and natural sciences the humanities stakeholders and decision makers They conclude in unison that both the institutional and the methodological foundations needed to do this work are still sorely lacking While this may seem a dismal position the book is full of success stories such as the integrative approach of MuSIASEM Multi Scale Integrative Assessment of Social Ecological Metabolism developed by Mario Giampietro's group in Barcelona Spain the alternative perspectives of what Ariel Salleh calls the meta industrial discourse in Ecofeminism or the innovative trans departmental status of the Stockholm Resilience Centre in Sweden Putting both the theoretical and methodological challenges of moving beyond reductionism on the table for discussion this text aims to help a growing community of passionate thinkers and actors better understand themselves and their work Public
