Teaching English Yogendra Butt, 2024-12-15 Teaching English Linguistics and Literature Combined explores the inextricable link between literature and language. Despite being treated as separate subjects in traditional Nigerian secondary schools, literature and English are deeply interconnected. This book highlights the need to merge these disciplines to enhance students' understanding and proficiency. We examine how literary teachers often focus on the socio-cultural, economic, and religious meanings of texts, while linguistic elements receive less attention. This imbalance can lead to students excelling in literary analysis but struggling with English language skills. Our book argues for a symbiotic relationship between literature and language, suggesting integrated teaching approaches to improve education and learning outcomes. Through practical suggestions, we aim to address the poor academic performance observed at secondary and tertiary levels in Nigeria. By fostering a comprehensive understanding of both literature and language, students can achieve greater proficiency and success.

Cyberbullying in the Global Playground Qing Li, Donna Cross, Peter K. Smith, 2012-02-20 Cyberbullying in the Global Playground provides the first global in-depth analysis of the emerging phenomenon of cyberbullying. Offers the first thorough comparative account of recent research into the emerging global phenomenon of cyberbullying. Provides an international perspective on the prevalence and nature of cyberbullying. Presents recent authoritative research within a critical perspective, drawing out theoretical and practical implications for policy and practice. May be used to help design intervention, evaluation, and policy strategies for effective efforts to combat the international phenomenon of cyberbullying.

Education Completion Gaps Nora Bexley, AI, 2025-04-07 Education Completion Gaps examines the significant educational disparities affecting LGBTQ students, revealing lower high school and college completion rates compared to their non-LGBTQ peers. The book investigates how factors like social stigma, discrimination, and inadequate institutional support contribute to increased dropout rates and hinder college enrollment and graduation. Notably, LGBTQ students facing bullying and harassment are at higher risk of dropping out, while supportive policies like Gay-Straight Alliances can improve outcomes. The book adopts an interdisciplinary approach, drawing from education, sociology, and psychology to explore the complexities of educational equity. It begins by outlining the historical context of discrimination before analyzing current research on dropout rates and college enrollment trends. The book then progresses through an examination of risk factors, a review of institutional policies, and a comparative analysis of college outcomes. This work is particularly valuable due to its exploration of intersectionality, highlighting how race, class, and gender combine to exacerbate educational disparities within the LGBTQ community. By synthesizing quantitative data from national surveys with qualitative insights from LGBTQ students and educators, the book offers a comprehensive framework for fostering more inclusive and supportive educational environments.

Bullying and Racist Bullying in Schools Dr. Sairah Qureshi, 2013-04-24 Unlike most, this book highlights gaps in the literature as well as addressing the core issue: what schools, parents, and educators are missing when it comes to dealing with bullying and racism. Henceforth, schools face underreporting on a significant level. Through academic and practical research, the author emphasizes areas for growth in anti bullying education within the school curriculum and presents recommendations which include methods to eradicate all forms of bullying Included are modules and class based activities This book is ideal for school teachers educators and researchers
