Adapting Minds David J. Buller,2006-02-17 Was human nature designed by natural selection in the Pleistocene epoch The dominant view in evolutionary psychology holds that it was that our psychological adaptations were designed tens of thousands of years ago to solve problems faced by our hunter gatherer ancestors In this provocative and lively book David Buller examines in detail the major claims of evolutionary psychology the paradigm popularized by Steven Pinker in The Blank Slate and by David Buss in The Evolution of Desire and rejects them all. This does not mean that we cannot apply evolutionary theory to human psychology says Buller but that the conventional wisdom in evolutionary psychology is misguided. Evolutionary psychology employs a kind of reverse engineering to explain the evolved design of the mind figuring out the adaptive problems our ancestors faced and then inferring the psychological adaptations that evolved to solve them. In the carefully argued central chapters of Adapting Minds Buller scrutinizes several of evolutionary psychology's most highly publicized discoveries including discriminative parental solicitude the idea that stepparents abuse their stepchildren at a higher rate than genetic parents abuse their biological children. Drawing on a wide range of empirical research including his own large scale study of child abuse he shows that none is actually supported by the evidence. Buller argues that our minds are not adapted to the Pleistocene but like the immune system are continually adapting over both evolutionary time and individual lifetimes. We must move beyond the reigning orthodoxy of evolutionary psychology to reach an accurate understanding of how human psychology is influenced by evolution. When we do Buller claims we will abandon not only the quest for human nature but the very idea of human nature itself.

Alone Together Paul R. Amato, Alan Booth, David R. Johnson, Stacy J. Rogers, 2009-06-30 Based on two studies of marital quality in America twenty years apart Alone Together shows that while the divorce rate has leveled off spouses are spending less time together. The authors argue that marriage is an adaptable institution and in accommodating the changes that have occurred in society it has become a less cohesive yet less confining arrangement.

Animal Emotions Christian Montag, Kenneth L. Davis, 2020 Animal Emotions How They Drive Human Behavior gives a concise overview of ancient mammalian emotions deeply rooted in the human brain. Jaak Panksepp a world renowned neuroscientist dedicated his life career to the study of mammalian emotions and he carved out seven distinct emotional systems he called seeking lust care and play positive emotions and fear anger and sadness negative emotions all exerting a tremendous influence on human behavior. Christian Montag a neuroscientist and psychologist and a long time collaborator of Jaak Panksepp revisits together with Kenneth L Davis one of Jaak's PhD students Panksepp's theories and provides the reader with new insights into the nature of emotions and their role as survival tools both for animals and for humans. They also raise new questions about the background of the research field. Jaak Panksepp coined Affective Neuroscience. How are personality and psychopathology linked to animal emotions? Do animals feel the same way as we do? What are our emotional needs in a digital society and what is key to a happy life?
