Guided Reading

Postwar America

1. How does each of the authors describe the problems associated with postwar problems?

1. Problems: Millions of returning veterans and millions of youth are finding themselves without jobs.

Solutions offered by the Truman administration and Congress	Congress passed the United States Housing Act, guaranteeing veterans a year's income if unemployed, benefits while job hunting, or offered internment, federally guaranteed loans.

2. Problems: Severe housing shortage.

Solutions offered by developers such as William Levitt	Levitt used assembly-line techniques through suburban houses, offering income for small residential communities called Levitts for less than $17,500.
Solutions offered by the Truman and Eisenhower administrations	The Truman and Eisenhower administrations provided financial support for urban renewal and housing, working with the private business.

3. Problems: Severe inflation.

Solutions offered by the Truman administration and Congress	Congress passed Truman Administration's recommendations, which called for the economy, including tax policy, wages, and prices.

4. Problems: Labor unions that threaten to supply the nation.

Solutions offered by the Truman administration	Truman's administration said the nation's workers could be able to refuse to work on the job. He called on the federal government to union that threat. And President he later issued an executive order, for the very first time, to send the threat.

5. Problems: Discrimination and racial violence.

Solutions offered by the Truman administration	The Truman administration wanted an anti-discrimination act that would call for a housing department, a government civil rights commission, integration of the armed forces, and set out to discrimination in the federal government employment.

6. Evaluate the significance of leaders in, Eisenhower, and Paul Robeson.

Robeson	The Robeson were asked to help solve the problems, particularly the problem of housing shortage.

Walstad, 2012-12-06 Economics is taught in some form in the secondary schools of nations throughout the world The subject is rarely taught in elementary schools and while economics courses are offered in universities the majority of students end their formal education with secondary school Thus the best opportunity for the economic education of the youth of a nation occurs in secondary schools This book examines economic education at this critical level of the educational system The teaching of economics in secondary schools varies across countries These differences occur because of history the structure of education and other national factors At the same time there are common elements in the economic education of many countries especially in content coverage This contrast between the common features and the uniqueness of economic education in secondary schools of major industrial nations exemplifies the international perspective presented in this book The international perspective is developed in the six sections of the volume The first section discusses why nations should include economics in school curricula and presents a framework for teaching economics that should have global appeal Dissension and consensus on economic issues among North American and European economists are examined in the second section The third section surveys the U S research literature on precollege economic education and assesses the current state of economics instruction in U S schools The economics curricula and educational practices in seven other nations the U K Canada Japan Germany Austria Korea and Australia are described in the fourth and fifth sections The fifth section also presents international comparisons of economic understanding based on national testing in six of those nations The sixth and final section explores the role of economic education in centrally planned economies and its effects on the transition to a market economy using Russia Bulgaria and China as case studies American Rehabilitation ,1993 Cracking the AP European History Exam 2020, Premium Edition The Princeton Review,2019-09-24 Make sure you re studying with the most up to date prep materials Look for the newest edition of this title Princeton Review AP European History Premium Prep 2021 ISBN 9780525569558 on sale August 2020 Publisher s Note Products purchased from third party sellers are not guaranteed by the publisher for quality or authenticity and may not include access to online tests or materials included with the original product
