Talking, Drawing, Writing Martha Horn, Mary Giacobbe, 2023-10-10 In the early grades talking and drawing can provide children with a natural pathway to writing yet these components are often overlooked In Talking Drawing Writing Lessons for Our Youngest Writers authors Martha Horn and Mary Ellen Giacobbe invite readers to join them in classrooms where they listen watch and talk with children then use what they learn to create lessons designed to meet children where they are and lead them into the world of writing The authors make a case for a broader definition of writing advocating for formal storytelling sessions in which children tell about what they know and for focused sketching sessions so that budding writers learn how to observe more carefully The book's lessons are organized by topic and include oral storytelling drawing writing words assessment introducing booklets and moving writers forward Based on the authors' work in urban kindergarten and first grade classes the essence and structure of many of the lessons lend themselves to adaptation through fifth grade The lessons follow a consistent format What's going on in the classroom What do children need to learn next Materials needed to teach the lesson Language used in each lesson Reasons behind why certain books are chosen and suggestions for additional children's books The authors show the thinking behind their teaching decisions and provide a way to look at and assess children's writing giving us much more than a book of lessons they present a vision of what beginning writing can look and sound like Perhaps most powerfully they give us examples of the language they use with children that reveal a genuine respect for and trust in children as learners

Writing Power Raylene L. Ramsay,2003 Although more women in France have entered political life than ever before the fact remains that there are fewer women representatives in the French parliament than there were after the Second World War In a new and original approach the author presents an overview and analysis of the emerging body of text by or on women who have held high political office in France The argument is that writing about women and politics has not just described or reflected women s slow but now substantial entry into political life it has played a major part in shaping the parity debate and its outcomes Interviews with political women such as Huguette Bouchardeau Simone Veil or Edith Cresson inserted in the text demonstrate the emergence and circulation of a new common discourse focused on the issue of whether women in politics make or should make a difference A close reading of the various texts examined in this book and their connection to new public counter discourses in France suggest that a re writing of power is indeed occurring Cognitive English reveals the many obstacles facing contemporary authors John Potts details how the online culture of remix and creative reuse operates in a post authorship mode with little regard for individual authorship The book explores how developments in algorithms and artificial intelligence AI have yielded novels newspaper articles musical works films and paintings without the need of human authors or artists It also examines how these AI achievements have provoked questions regarding the authorship of new works such as Does the author need to be human And more alarmingly Is there even a need for human authors Providing suggestions on how contemporary authors can endure in the world of data the book ultimately concludes that network culture has provoked the near death but not the death of the author The Facts on File Companion to the World Novel Michael Sollars, Arbolina Llamas Jennings, 2008 Handbook of Phenomenological Aesthetics Hans Rainer Sepp, Lester Embree, 2010-03-11 Historically phenomenology began in Edmund Husserl's theory of mathematics and logic went on to focus for him on transcendental first philosophy and for others on metaphysics philosophical anthropology and theory of interpretation The continuing focus has thus been on knowledge and being But if one began without those interests and with an understanding of the phenomenological style of approach one might well see that art and aesthetics make up the most natural field to be approached phenomenologically Contributions to this field have continually been made in the phenomenological tradition from very early on but so to speak along the side The situation has been similar with phenomenological ethics A great deal of thought about art and aesthetics has nevertheless accumulated during a century and a handbook like the present one is long overdue The project of this handbook began in conversations over dinner in Sepp's apartment in Baden Baden at one evening of the hot European summer in the year 2003 As things worked out he knew more about whom to ask and how much space to allocate to each entry and Embree knew more about how to conduct the inviting preliminary editing and prodding of contributors who were late returning their criticized drafts and copyedited entries and was able to invest the time and other resources from his endowed chair That process took longer than anticipated and there were additional unfortunate delays due to factors beyond the editors's control GameAxis Unwired, 2008-01 GameAxis Unwired is a magazine dedicated to bring you the latest news previews reviews and events around the world and close to you Every month rain or shine our team of dedicated editors and hardcore gamers put themselves in the line of fire to bring you news previews and other things you will want to know Writing Feminist Autoethnography Elizabeth Mackinlay, 2022-01-31 Writing Feminist Autoethnography explores the personal is political relationship between autoethnography and feminist theory and practice Each chapter introduces the lives and works of a range of feminist thinkers and writers and considers the ways in which their thinking and writing might come to be in relation with our own personal is political thinking and writing work as feminist autoethnographers The book begins with an acknowledgement of the author's positionality as a white settler colonial woman in relation with Yanyuwa Garrwa Mara and Kudanji Aboriginal women This positionality has continued to resonate deeply with the responses and sensibilities the author holds as a feminist autoethnographer to move beyond coloniality She explores the writing of Virginia Woolf Simone Weil Simone de Beauvoir Hélène Cixous Kathleen Stewart bell hooks and Ruth Behar with critical affect to embrace embody and engage with feminist thinking wondering and feeling The book creatively and performatively explores what it means to live a feminist life as an autoethnographer This book will define and conceptualize feminist autoethnography for all qualitative researchers especially those interested in critical autoethnography and scholars in gender studies and communication
