Seeley, 1965 Since operational conversion tables for the Armed Forces Women's Selection Test AFWST 5 and 6 based on a 1961 Air Force standardization appeared to be scaled somewhat high for WAC potential enlistees research was undertaken to bring the norms up to date The tests were restandardized on a sample of 400 WAC enlisted women going through basic training at the WAC Center and the new norms instituted As a further evaluation the basic trainee sample was doubled by including 400 women entering basic training in succeeding classes and norms were again computed this time on the larger group Data were also obtained on 1000 examinees processed at Armed Forces Examining Stations in order to include rejected applicants and norms were computed on the wider range sample At the same time data were obtained by which to analyze the effectiveness of the AFWST as predictor of performance in basic training and in a clerical training course In the conversion based on the first WAC basic training sample percentile scores for a given raw score were higher than in the earlier Air Force conversion and permitted acceptance of a larger percentage of applicants The two subsequent conversions based on WAC samples were almost identical with the first The AFWST was found to be an effective predictor of academic grade in basic training With respect to the clerical course prediction was substantial both for academic grade and for total grade Development of Screening and Selection Tests for Women Jane McReynolds, 1961

Validation of Air Force Classification Tests Against Academic Grades in an Aviation High School Lloyd G. Humphreys, 1961 Air Force classification tests and the Army General Classification Test were validated against individual course grades in an aviation high school Course grades showed low to moderate levels of reliability with those in the terminal aviation mechanic curriculum somewhat less reliable than grades in the pre engineering technical curriculum Most of the multiple correlations of classification test scores with course grades were at a usefully high level Highest correlations with Air Force aptitude indexes were somewhat lower and correlations with AGCT still lower For selection purposes the Air Force classification tests do a better job than the AGCT general intelligence test The Air Force tests that have the highest utility for selection are Arithmetic Reasoning Physics and Pattern Comprehension Additional mechanical and numerical content as well as the use of keyed biographical data items may improve prediction in this school situation This is the first of a series of reports detailing the longrange validity of Air Force selection tests for technical academic criteria The Aviation High School
