A Spirit of Dialogue Christopher N. Okonkwo, 2008 A groundbreaking study A Spirit of Dialogue examines through extensive interdisciplinary research theory and close reading the intricate reconstructions extensions and resonances of the West African myth of spirit children the Born to Die in contemporary African American neo slave narratives Arguing that the myth called Ogbaje in Igbo language and b k in Yoruba has had over thirty years of uncharted presence in African American literature Okonkwo advances a compelling case absent in extant scholarship He traces Ogbaje the Born to Die's appearance in African American texts to a convergence of factors They include but are not limited to the impact of Chinua Achebe's Things Fall Apart the 1960s emergence of the contemporary neo slave narrative the 1960s and 1970s black consciousness Black Power movement and the cultural agenda gendered politics and centripetal philosophy of the Black Arts movement's nationalist aesthetic African American identity questions of the post civil rights and the multicultural eras and the thematic shifts as well as the African diaspora orientation of African American fiction of the post nationalist aesthetic period A Spirit of Dialogue focuses on the sometimes neglected and understudied works of four canonical African American writers Octavia E Butler's Wild Seed and Mind of My Mind Tananarive Due's The Between John Edgar Wideman's The Cattle Killing and Toni Morrison's Sula and Beloved Okonkwo demonstrates persuasively how the mythic spirit child informs the content and form of these novels offering Butler Due Wideman and Morrison a non occidental code by which to engage collectively with the various issues integral to the history experience of African descended people The paradigm functions then as the nexus of a life affirmative dialogue among the six novels as well as between them and other works of African religious and literary imagination particularly Things Fall Apart and Ben Okri's The Famished Road

Death in American Texts and Performances Mark Pizzato,2016-05-13 How do twentieth and twenty first century artists bring forth the powerful reality of death when it exists in memory and lived experience as something that happens only to others Death in American Texts and Performances takes up this question to explore the modern and postmodern aesthetics of death Working between and across genres the contributors examine literary texts and performance media including Robert Lowell s For the Union Dead Luis Valdez Dark Root of a Scream Amiri Baraka s Dutchman Thornton Wilder s Our Town John Edgar Wideman s The Cattle Killing Toni Morrison s Sula and Song of Solomon Don DeLillo s White Noise and Falling Man and HBO s Six Feet Under As the contributors struggle to convey the artist s crisis of representation they often locate the dilemma in the gap between artifice and nature where loss is performed and where re membering is sometimes literally reenacted through the bodily gesture While artists confront the impossibility of total recovery or transformation so must the contributors explore the gulf between real corpses and their literary or performative reconstructions Ultimately the volume shows both artist and critic grappling with the dilemma of showing how the aesthetics of death as absence is made meaningful in and by language

The Sioux Royal B. Hassrick, 2012-11-28 For many people the Sioux as warriors and as buffalo hunters have become the symbol of all that is Indian colorful figures endowed with great fortitude and powerful vision They were the heroes of the Great Plains and they were the villains too Royal B Hassrick here attempts to describe the ways of the people the patterns of their behavior and the concepts of their imagination Uniquely he has approached the subject from the Sioux's own point of view giving their own interpretation of their world in the era of its greatest vigor and renown the brief span of years from about 1830 to 1870 In addition to printed sources the author has drawn from the observation and records of a number of Sioux who were still living when this book was projected and were anxious to serve as links to the vanished world of their forebears Because it is true that men become in great measure what they think and want themselves to be it is important to gain this insight into Sioux thought of a century ago Apparently the most significant theme in their universe was that man was a minute but integral part of that universe The dual themes of self expression and self denial reached through their lives helping to explain their utter defeat soon after the Battle of the Little Big Horn When the opportunity to resolve the conflict with the white man in their own way was lost their very reason for living was lost too There are chapters on the family and the sexes fun the scheme of war production the structure of the nation the way to status and other aspects of Sioux life
