Powerpoint For Refugee Sunday:

Refugee Countdown Bob Cowin, 2019-12-02 Refugee Countdown presents the questions and dilemmas ordinary people faced in deciding whether to sponsor refugees and how to go about doing so. It's an insider's story of what actually happened rather than an outsider's prescription of what is supposed to happen. It relates aspects of the refugee crisis and the church that challenge North American stereotypes. Blocked from bringing Syrian refugees into the United States, members of a Seattle church help a family enter Canada instead, raising enough funds to support them for a year while they learn English and a new culture. Refugee Countdown describes the project's origin in 2016 and the evolution of a partnership with the Canadian church that became the formal refugee sponsor. It portrays the learning, waiting, and preparations over a two-year period until the family is finally cleared to leave their place of exile in Lebanon. The story is told from the perspective of the Canadian partners and ends with the family's arrival in Vancouver. The focus is on the experiences of the sponsors, not those of the Orthodox Christian refugees. Along with identifying the broad range of considerations in resettling refugees, Refugee Countdown touches on the numerous resources and support services available. It presents a fuller and more balanced framework for thinking about refugees than appears in much political discourse and shares a warm story of developing friendships and bumps along the way. The underlying theme is that refugee sponsorship should be about more than just rescuing hurting people, especially when resettlement is a mere drop in the bucket of the world's displaced peoples. A successful sponsorship is reciprocal, enlarging the worldviews, humanity, and skill sets of the sponsors. And from the sponsors, these benefits ripple into the broader community.

Community as Church, Church as Community Michael Plekon, 2021-07-22 Parishes of all denominations are in decline, shrinking, closing, dying. We know that there are increasing numbers young and older who are religiously "nones" and "dones." This book explores why the decline is taking place, why the distancing is going on. But it goes on to examine parishes from all over the country and from various church bodies that are resurrecting. The central theme of death and resurrection shapes the analysis of parishes covered. Parishes are resurrecting by reinventing their ministries, by repurposing their buildings to better serve their neighborhoods, thus replanting and reconnecting with them. All of this is the Spirit's doing, but through the community of sisters and brothers who make up each congregation of faith. Community as the core of church is the other reality shaping the book's reflection. And community, a parish being with those around, living for more than its own survival, are visions for going forward. Other aspects of congregational life are also examined, most importantly the pastors: how they serve when budgets shrink, how they are trained, how pastors act with the community, not above it. No recipes are suggested for parish resurrection, but the stories of the parishes that have revived bear within them numerous lessons for us in the future.

New Serial Titles ,1966 A union list of serials commencing publication after Dec 31 1949 Reasons to Doubt Carolyn Hoyle,Mai Sato,2019-01-10 This book reveals what happens to applications for post conviction review when those in England Wales and Northern Ireland who believe they are wrongfully convicted apply to the Criminal Cases Review Commission the only body that can refer a case back to the Court of Appeal once appellants opportunities for direct appeal are exhausted While the Court is obliged to hear all such referrals the Commission can only refer a case where it believes there is a real possibility that the Court will quash the conviction The first empirical study of all stages of decision making within the Commission this book starts from the premise that the test applied by the Commission the real possibility test is not inflexible Though created by statute and refined through case law it must be determined on a case by case basis drawing too on cultural and structural variables alongside fresh evidence gathered by the Commission Through in depth analysis of case files and interviews Hoyle and Sato scrutinize the Commissions operational practices its working rules and assumptions considering how these influence its understanding of the real possibility test Situating their rich empirical data within a framework of the Commissions social organizational and legal contexts this book demonstrates that in its open ended investigations there is considerable scope for discretion for thorough exploration of all possible avenues or for choosing a more superficial consideration of a case It emerges that while structured internal guidance drawing heavily on Court jurisprudence shapes decision making creating consistency in approach there remains some variability across cases over time that can be accounted for by the different professional backgrounds and personalities of Commission staff
