Ebola Paul Richards, 2016-09-15 Shortlisted for the Fage and Oliver Prize 2018 From December 2013 the largest Ebola outbreak in history swept across West Africa claiming thousands of lives in Liberia Sierra Leone and Guinea By the middle of 2014 the international community was gripped by hysteria Experts grimly predicted that millions would be infected within months and a huge international control effort was mounted to contain the virus Yet paradoxically by this point the disease was already going into decline in Africa itself So why did outside observers get it so wrong Paul Richards draws on his extensive first hand experience in Sierra Leone to argue that the international community's panicky response failed to take account of local expertise and common sense Crucially Richards shows that the humanitarian response to the disease was most effective in those areas where it supported these initiatives and that it hampered recovery when it ignored or disregarded local knowledge

Youth, Emerging Adults, Faith, and Giving Patricia Snell Herzog, 2018-05-04 This book is a printed edition of the Special Issue Youth Emerging Adults Faith and Giving that was published in Religions The penny cyclopædia [ed. by G. Long]. Society for the diffusion of useful knowledge, 1858 Detained and Deported Margaret Regan, 2016-05-03 An intimate look at the people ensnared by the US detention and deportation system the largest in the world On a bright Phoenix morning Elena Santiago opened her door to find her house surrounded by a platoon of federal immigration agents

Her children screamed as the officers handcuffed her and drove her away. Within hours she was deported to the rough border town of Nogales, Sonora, with nothing but the clothes on her back. Her two-year-old daughter and fifteen-year-old son, both American citizens, were taken by the state of Arizona and consigned to foster care. Their mother's only offense: living undocumented in the United States. Immigrants like Elena, who've lived in the United States for years, are being detained and deported at unprecedented rates. Thousands languish in detention centers, often torn from their families for months or even years. Deportees are returned to violent Central American nations or unceremoniously dropped off in dangerous Mexican border towns. Despite the dangers of the desert crossing, many immigrants will slip across the border again, stopping at nothing to get home to their children. Drawing on years of reporting in the Arizona-Mexico borderlands, journalist Margaret Regan tells their poignant stories. Inside the massive Eloy Detention Center, a for-profit private prison in Arizona, she meets detainee Yolanda Fontes, a mother separated from her three small children. In a Nogales soup kitchen, deportee Gustavo Sanchez, a young father who'd lived in Phoenix since the age of eight, agonizes about the risks of the journey back. Regan demonstrates how increasingly draconian detention and deportation policies have broadened police powers while enriching a private prison industry whose profits are derived from human suffering. She also documents the rise of resistance: profiling activists and young immigrant Dreamers who are fighting for the rights of the undocumented. Compelling and heart-wrenching, Detained and Deported offers a rare glimpse into the lives of people ensnared in America's immigration dragnet.
