Grounds of Literary Criticism Suresh Raval, 1998 This sophisticated and wide ranging look at literary criticism addresses the major theorists of today and proposes a constructive approach to challenging critical debates. Disclosing conflict as the inevitable outcome of historical change Suresh Raval refuses the stark either/or choice between the foundationalist stance which seeks to find the right answers and the relativist position which denies the possibility of identifying right and wrong. Raval explores the question of conflict in literary criticism and theory by analyzing how different theories have treated key issues not to resolve these problems but to show why they resist decisive solution.

Fault Lines and Controversies in the Study of Seventeenth-century English Literature Claude J.

Summers,Ted-Larry Pebworth,2002 Written by various experts in the field this volume of thirteen original essays explores some of the most significant theoretical and practical fault lines and controversies in seventeenth century English literature. The turn into the twenty first century is an appropriate time to take stock of the state of the field and as part of that stocktaking the need arises to assess both where literary study of the early modern period has been and where it might desirably go. Hence many of the essays in this collection look both backward and forward. They chart the changes in the field over the past half century while also looking forward to more change in the future.
