Ocean Observation based on Underwater Acoustic Technology, volume II Xuebo Zhang, Haixin Sun, Arata Kaneko, Suleman Mazhar, 2024-12-02 Since the sound wave is the only information carrier that can propagate long distances in the ocean underwater acoustic technology based on sound waves undoubtedly plays an important role in ocean observation The development of underwater acoustic technology requires the support of various underwater acoustic sensors and signal processing techniques The function of an underwater acoustic sensor is to conduct the conversion between an underwater acoustic signal and an electric signal Their performance directly determines the quality of underwater acoustic equipment However the harsh environment such as high pressure high temperature and highly corrosive fluids as well as different requirements such as low frequency broad bandwidth high power and deep water often affect the physical properties of materials and structural performance of transducers which deteriorates the transducer performance Due to the lack of comprehensive research on key techniques including material physical properties and interfacial bond properties the reliability of structural components is often seriously affected by environmental conditions which may lead to major performance degradation or even failure with the device performance Therefore it is challenging for the transducer design to balance the acoustic performance and the device s stability

Literature and Sound Film in Mid-Century Britain Lara Ehrenfried, 2025-03-27 What happened to cinema and literature when synchronized sound was introduced to the film industry in the late 1920s Literature and Sound Film in Mid Century Britain studies the paths of film and text following this event It asks how British cinema responded to the introduction of sound and how mid century literature took up the challenge of the synchronized audio visual entertainment experience offered by this media change By examining the technological and industrial histories of film and its narrative strategies and by drawing links to twentieth century literary culture this study offers a new way of approaching mid century writing and its media ecology Developing innovative audio visual close readings this book offers a multi sensory multi media approach that reframes the relationships between cinema and literature in the twentieth century The study addresses a wide range of film genres such as musical film screwball comedy the thriller documentary and melodrama alongside the writings of a large group of authors including Elizabeth Bowen Patrick Hamilton Evelyn Waugh Lewis Grassie Gibbon Henry Green Jean Rhys Ivy Compton Burnett and Eric Ambler It covers an expansive range of films and texts of the 1930s and 1940s and invites readers to comprehensively rethink mid century media culture by arguing for a growing synergy of film and text      Ethnomusicology Jennifer C. Post,2013-09-05
