South African Navy Recruitment:

African Navies Timothy Stapleton, 2022-11-11 This edited volume focuses on aspects of the understudied theme of African sea power including African navies and the engagement of non African navies with the continent Africa possesses 48 000 kilometers of coastline comprising 38 out of 54 of the continent's states and several strategic choke points for international shipping such as the Suez Canal the Gulf of Aden and the Cape of Good Hope Nevertheless post colonial Africa's small navies and their relations with the navies of external powers have not received much scholarly attention Focusing on Sub Saharan Africa this collection attempts to address this neglect and stimulate further research by offering original chapters related to historical and contemporary themes around Africa's navies The historical chapters cover the origin of the Tanzanian Ethiopian Nigerian and Ghana navies during the era of decolonization and the Cold War the asymmetrical naval campaign fought during the Nigerian Civil War 1967-70 and the activities of the Soviet Navy in supporting African states and movements fighting lingering colonialism and white supremacy during the 1970s and 1980s Focusing on the contemporary situation other chapters discuss the engagement of the Indian Navy with Africa the potential role of the Angolan and Mozambican navies in the Southern African Development Community SADC the transformation and development of the post apartheid South African Navy and the challenges and capabilities of African navies in the early twenty first century The book concludes by discussing the question of whether African coastal countries need navies This book will be of much interest to students of naval power strategic studies African politics and International Relations Chapters 1 2 6 and 8 of this book are available for free in Open Access at www.taylorfrancis.com It has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Home Front: South Africa and the Second World War Evert

Kleynhans, Anri Delport, 2024-11-15 Home Front South Africa and the Second World War offers a fresh academic perspective through the voices of both new and established scholars leveraging recently uncovered archival material to illuminate the experiences of South Africans at home between 1939 and 1945 This latest addition to South Africa's wartime historiography is thoughtfully divided into two broad sections dealing with active participation in and resistance against the Allied war effort The book highlights the vigorous mobilisation and recruitment campaigns that saw thousands enlist and the pivotal roles women assumed in industry and civil service It explores how the war effort permeated every facet of society challenging traditional gender roles and societal norms It delves into the dynamic shifts within South African society from politics and community mobilisation to the contributions of collegiate schools and the impact on sports It uncovers the undercurrents of dissent that existed alongside visible support It brings to light the political activism within the African National Congress the covert operations of Nazi sympathisers and the simmering tensions among Afrikaner nationalists In doing so the chapters collectively unravel the complexity of South African society where loyalty and opposition coexisted often influenced by propaganda espionage and socio political manoeuvring
