South Carolina Social Studies Pass Coach:

Empowering Students Through Multilingual and Content Discourse Finley, Stacie Lynn, Correll, Pamela, Pearman, Cathy, Huffman, Stephanie, 2023-07-25 Empowering Students Through Multilingual and Content Discourse is a peer reviewed research book that challenges the traditional monolingual classroom approach where the teacher's voice dominates and only the dominant culture's language is considered the path to success. The book aims to empower students by creating classroom spaces where all voices are heard, valued, and empowered. It draws on research from scholars who study discourse and offers insights into how discourse can be used to promote language and literacy development, honor all students' voices, and empower them. This book also provides guidance on culturally and linguistically sustaining discourse practices and encourages educators to incorporate students' home languages and discourse practices in classroom instruction. It challenges educators to move away from centering White English and represent language more responsibly within the classroom. This research is a valuable resource for academic scholars and a useful tool for teachers looking to cultivate student-centered classroom practices. By encouraging discourse among students, educators can create a space where human life holds meaning and students feel empowered to act and use their voices.

Assessing New Literacies Anne Burke, Roberta F. Hammett, 2009 New literacies globally popular among children and adolescents in and out of school contexts are challenging educators and institutions to rethink pedagogies. As educators begin to embrace the pedagogical possibilities of multimodal texts and digital practices, they are exploring the complexities of assessing these new literacies. The essays in this book explore what it means to assess the sophisticated textual engagements of new literacies, including reading and writing online, social networking, gaming, multimodal composing, and creating virtual identities. Chapters offer practical examples of new literacies and examine how assessment provides insight into the diverse ways in which language is conceived, valued, and used to inform the literate lives of its twenty-first century users. Scholars and educators will find this collection full of rich understanding of the assessment concerns raised by new communication practices, youth culture, digital engagements, and semiotic diversification.

Civic Engagement in Communities of Color Kristen E. Duncan, Wayne Journell, 2023 This volume will assist classroom teachers, teacher candidates, and teacher educators identify where whitewashed civics curricula fail students of color. Topics range from issues facing Asian immigrant communities to the Black Lives Matter at School curriculum.

The Social Studies, 1928 Burke High School: Sherman E. Pyatt, 2012-09-18 In 1911 the Charleston Colored Industrial School opened its doors to 375 African American boys and girls, making it the first public high school for African Americans in the city of Charleston. Throughout the years, there have been several public high schools in the city that educated African American students. However, they all have closed, and Burke High School, formerly the Charleston Colored Industrial School, is the only public high school in the city that provides an education for children living on the Peninsula. This book explores the rich and unique history of the school from 1894 to 2006 and provides another perspective on the subject of education and African Americans in Charleston during 19th 20th and 21st centuries Jimmy Black's Tales from the Tar Heels Jimmy Black, Scott Fowler, 2006 Through exclusive interviews with key players and coaches as well as his own personal insights Black the senior point guard and undisputed leader of the 1981 82 North Carolina national champion basketball team celebrates the Tar Heels most famous team Photos Preparing Quality Teachers Drew Polly, Eva Garin, 2022-03-01 National and international teacher education organizations and scholars have called for an increased emphasis on clinical practice in educator preparation programs These recommendations include specific efforts to increase the duration diversity and quality of experiences that teacher candidates engage in during their time in P 12 schools while earning their teaching license This book includes a robust set of chapters that include conceptual theoretical and empirical chapters related to innovative approaches in clinical practice in educator preparation Authors include teacher educators from around the United States and Canada from a variety of types of higher education institutions The book provides readers with examples evidence and ideas to thoughtfully consider their future direction in examining planning and implementing clinical practice experiences for teacher candidates Resources in Education ,1998 Departments of Veterans Affairs and Housing and Urban Development, and Independent Agencies Appropriations for Fiscal Year 1991 United States.
