South African Metro Police Recruitment 2016:

Panic City Martin J. Murray, 2020-03-10 Despite the end of white minority rule and the transition to parliamentary democracy Johannesburg remains haunted by its tortured history of racial segregation and burdened by enduring inequalities in income opportunities for stable work and access to decent housing Under these circumstances Johannesburg has become one of the most dangerous cities in the world where the yawning gap between the haves and have nots has fueled a turn toward redistribution through crime While wealthy residents have retreated into heavily fortified gated communities and upscale security estates the less affluent have sought refuge in retrofitting their private homes into safe houses closing off public streets and hiring the services of private security companies to protect their suburban neighborhoods Panic City is an exploration of urban fear and its impact on the city's evolving siege architecture the transformation of policing and obsession with security that has fueled unprecedented private consumption of protection services Martin Murray analyzes the symbiotic relationship between public law enforcement agencies private security companies and neighborhood associations wherein buyers and sellers of security have reinvented ways of maintaining outdated segregation practices that define the urban poor as suspects

The South African State Transformed? Louis A. Picard, Thomas M. Mogale, Caitlin C. Corrigan, 2024-09-10 This book examines the nature of the 1994 political transition in South Africa and its impact on post apartheid South Africa Specifically it examines the failures of liberalism within the context of the transitional process that led to the institution if not the practice of a non racial state in 1994 The term liberal is an eclectic term defining a several of views political and economic We use the term here within context but essentially define it as a commitment to open views the willingness to consider change and to value basic human rights The nature of institutional change in South Africa as it moved towards a democratic state would influence whether South Africa would succeed as a newly industrializing pluralist democratic country or collapse into yet another African failed state As South Africa moves toward its fourth decade of majority rule the view towards the future is much less promising than it was in 1994

Protest in South Africa Heidi Brooks, Rekgotsofetse Chikane, 2024-01-23 Popular protest has become a regular feature of post 1994 South Africa As a young democracy born out of resistance we may understand the contemporary manifestations of protest as extensions of this broader history However it is notably in the context of formal democratic institutions that popular protest has become an increasingly normalised mode of influencing policy demanding service delivery and forcing change Protest is constitutive of South Africa's democratic politics but also reflective of it Protest in South Africa Rejection reassertion reclamation explores the underpinnings of contemporary protest and both its short term causes and structural drivers Focusing on the surge of protest from the mid 2000s this edited volume provides an overview of the complexity of protest action the diversity of protest spaces and actors and responses to protest from both citizens and state The volume situates its analysis against the backdrop of the global wave of protest witnessed since the turn of the 21 century while examining protest in South Africa's local and historical contexts Contributors to the volume examine protests in relation to among other factors provision of infrastructure and services contestations around socio economic development issues of citizenship and demands for inclusive democratic governance Chapters also examine the role of women in protest action the policing of protest and the intersection of protest action with spaces of formal politics The volume also alerts us to the darker side of protest and the destruction and division it may foment It thus considers the prospects of South Africa s evolving sometimes violent protest terrain for social and state stability and democratic progress In the diversity of spaces sectors and communities of interests in which collective action has emerged Protest in South Africa Rejection reassertion reclamation shows how protest is underpinned by a rejection of the status quo a reassertion of interests and a reclaiming of the political and democratic space

Police Integrity in South Africa Sanja Kutnjak Ivkovich, Adri Sauerman, 2020-04-29 Policing in South Africa has gained notoriety through its extensive history of oppressive law enforcement In 1994 as the country s apartheid system was replaced with a democratic order the new government faced the significant challenge of transforming the South African police force into a democratic police agency the South African Police Service SAPS that would provide unbiased policing to all the country s people More than two decades since the initiation of the reforms it appears that the SAPS has rapidly developed a reputation as a police agency beset by challenges to its integrity This book offers a unique perspective by providing in depth analyses of police integrity in South Africa It is a case study that systematically and empirically explores the contours of police integrity in a young democracy Using the organizational theory of police integrity the book analyzes the complex set of historical legal political social and economic circumstances shaping police integrity A discussion of the theoretical framework is accompanied by the results of a nationwide survey of nearly 900 SAPS officers probing their familiarity with official rules their expectations of discipline within the SAPS and their willingness to report misconduct The book also examines the influence of the respondents race

Thompson, 2016-07-20 The World Today Series Western Europe is an annually updated presentation of each sovereign country in Western Europe past and present It is organized by individual chapters for each country expertly covering the region's geography people history political system constitution parliament parties political leaders and elections The combination of factual accuracy and up to date detail along with its informed projections make this an outstanding resource for researchers practitioners in international development media professionals government officials potential investors and students Now in its 35th edition the content is thorough yet perfect for a one semester introductory course or general library reference Available in both print and e book formats and priced low to fit student budgets Rescaling municipal governance amidst political competition in Gauteng: Sedibeng's proposed re-demarcation Themba Mkhize, 2021-08-27 In 2011 the Gauteng Provincial Government proposed that Sedibeng a Category C district municipality located in the province should be restructured Although the original proposal had anticipated that this would happen after the 2016 local elections the issue remains unresolved due largely to fierce party political opposition and vociferous protests against it on the ground This Occasional Paper examines the dynamics particularities peculiarities and challenges of re-demarcating the Gauteng City Region While informed by technical reasons the arguments for and against the merger have tended to gravitate more towards party political rationales for why the re-demarcation should or should not go ahead Although these debates raise important merits and demerits for the proposal they are difficult to disentangle from the interests of those whose fortunes would be changed by restructuring In this environment municipal demarcation risks being held hostage by party politics with stakeholders such as political parties using any means at their disposal to have things go their way including by scapegoating the Municipal Demarcation Board MDB The case of Sedibeng presents important lessons about attempts to make post transition local government and mechanisms for determining its configuration work for Gauteng It also highlights the need for strengthening and revising demarcation related legislation How can we make sure that the MDB functions effectively with respect to its primary goals Transformative Environmental Constitutionalism Melanie Murcott, 2022-10-24 Given the Anthropocene's converging socio ecological crises particularly the dire issue of climate change social movements are increasingly approaching the courts to advance intersecting struggles for social environmental and climate justice Transformative constitutional regimes in South Africa and elsewhere that incorporate environmental and human rights protections offer potentially powerful legal norms to advance the struggles of these movements Grappling with such norms and with problematic trends in adjudication Prof Melanie Jean Murcott develops a legal theory of Transformative Environmental Constitutionalism as a novel framework within which courts could adjudicate environmental law disputes developing law for the Anthropocene s global struggles
