Evaluation of Skylab (EREP) Data for Forest and Rangeland Surveys Robert Clement Aldrich, 1976 Data products from the Skylab Earth Resources Experiment Package were examined monocularly or stereoscopically using a variety of magnifying interpretation devices. Land use, forest types, physiographic sites, and plant communities, as well as forest stress, were interpreted and mapped at sites in Georgia, South Dakota, and Colorado. Microdensitometric techniques and computer-assisted data analysis and sampling procedures were developed and tested against ground truth. Results indicate that only Skylab S190B color photographs are good for classification of forest and nonforest land, 90 to 95 percent correct. Both visual and microdensitometer techniques can separate range plant communities at the Region level ECOCLASS system with over 90 percent accuracy. Only mountain pine beetle infestations more than 26 m (85 ft) long could be detected. In a study near Redding, California, radiance from Skylab S190B and LANDSAT sensors was found linearly correlated with terrain reflectance.

Lectures on Quantum Field Theory Jiří Hořejší, 2024-08-01 The book covers the material of the two-semester course of quantum field theory that the author taught at Charles University and Czech Technical University in Prague for more than two decades. In the individual chapters, one may find discussion of selected topics in relativistic quantum mechanics and relativistic quantum field theory. The dominant theme is quantum electrodynamics. The technique of Feynman diagrams is described in detail, as well as methods of regularization and renormalization, including some basic applications. The selection of the topics presented in the book is intended to provide the reader with the technical skills necessary for a subsequent study of theoretical particle physics. The text contains a lot of detailed explicit calculations in an extent not quite common in other available sources and this corresponds to the contents of the author's lectures. The readership is supposed to consist primarily of university students specializing in theoretical physics or nuclear and particle physics but the publication may also be useful to any scientifically minded reader seriously interested in the foundations of modern physics. Congressional Record United States.
