Process Benchmarking in the Water Industry Renato Parena,E. Smeets,I. Troquet,2002-03-01 Free market mechanisms increasingly influence former monopoly sectors such as water and wastewater services with requirements for more transparency and efficiency Small and large scale consumers alike demand greater insight into how drinking water tariffs are structured and into the level of service Public and private shareholders require guarantees on water supply at a reasonable price with the requisite quality both of service and product and reliability together with careful eco management Developing sound policies requires information on key industry issues such as water resources public health water services the environment and the cost of providing the level of the service demanded by customers and regulators Similarly informed decision making on issues of ownership industry structure competition policy and effective regulation requires accurate analysis of performance across the industry throughout the world In many sectors of industry Performance Indicators and Benchmarking exercises are widely used as suitable management tools for gaining and maintaining continuous improvement and competitive advantage Addressing the need to promote best practice principles as part of the advocacy for the advancement of water and sanitation services is currently one of the major governance issues that IWA is challenged to tackle The objective is to develop generally accepted procedures and methodologies able to provide decision makers with an overall perception of the utility performance as a sound basis for making strategic choices This requires the definition of a reference framework for Performance Indicators and Benchmarking methodologies as well as adequate models of aggregation that fit the basic needs of the key types of user The Task Force on Performance Indicators operating within the
