Edmunds,Robert McCabe,2020-10-09 This book studies recent attempts to restructure maritime security sectors through capacity building It innovates both theoretically and empirically It proposes a new framework for understanding maritime capacity building drawing on work in peacebuilding and security sector reform The framework is then applied across empirical case studies from the Western Indian Ocean WIO region written by scholars from the Global South The WIO region is a paradigmatic case to study maritime security and capacity building in action Countries in the region face the full gamut of maritime security challenges while their indigenous capacities to deal with these are often weak In consequence the region functions as an engine of innovation for maritime capacity building more widely The lessons and best practices from the region have importance consequences for addressing maritime security across the globe The Contemporary

German Navy as an Instrument of Foreign Policy Moritz Brake,2024-12-06 Since the Cold War and beyond the Zeitenwende Germany has increasingly come to rely on its navy as an instrument of foreign policy The German Navy supports comprehensive maritime security and ocean governance and its missions not only reflect its own evolution but also change within Germany This is a marked shift for the continental power Germany and forms a substantial component of its much broader maritime turn in the 21st century Changes in strategic context new security challenges and Germany s evolving international role after reunification have altered the perception of the navy s utility Its share in the Bundeswehr s personnel has grown and the navy has seen proportionally higher investment or relatively less cuts owing to the post Cold War peace dividend than either army or airforce The author shows that the navy has markedly changed and become increasingly useful for Germany s foreign policy something which in the stormy seas of geopolitical escalation of the Zeitenwende has already paid dividends Oceanic Strategy Vidhan Pathak,Raghvendra Kumar,2024-12-03 This book introduces the concept of oceanic strategy expanding beyond traditional maritime and naval perspectives to include political economic socio cultural and ecological dimensions It highlights the Indian Ocean Region as a critical arena for global power competition where the abundance of resources strategic significance and emerging interests have made it a new frontier for opportunity growth and conflict By incorporating aspects like oceanic security resource exploration the blue economy and hydrography the book presents a broader view of strategic thought and the role of oceanic spaces in national and global geopolitics Focusing on key players such as India China the US and other traditional and emerging powers the book analyses the reorientation of national interests and the intensifying struggle for dominance in the Indian Ocean It argues that control over this region is crucial for attaining influence in 21st century geopolitics The work also addresses non traditional security threats like piracy and transnational crime situating the Indian Ocean at the heart of modern geopolitical discourse This book is an essential resource for students and scholars of international relations strategic studies and political science offering critical insights into the evolving power dynamics shaping the future of the Indian Ocean Region

The Eastern Fleet and the Indian Ocean, 1942-1944 Charles Stephenson, 2022-04-06 A study of the British Royal Navy's activities in the Indian Ocean during World War II led by Admiral Sir James Somerville The story of the British Eastern Fleet which operated in the Indian Ocean against Japan has rarely been told Although it was the largest fleet deployed by the Royal Navy prior to 1945 and played a vital part in the theatre it was sent to protect it has no place in the popular consciousness of the naval history of the Second World War So Charles Stephenson's deeply researched and absorbing narrative gives this forgotten fleet the recognition it deserves British pre war naval planning for the Far East is part of the story as is the disastrous loss of the battleship Prince of Wales and battlecruiser Repulse in 1941 but the body of the book focuses on the new fleet commanded by Admiral Sir James Somerville and its operations against the Japanese navy and aircraft as well as Japanese and German submarines Later in the war once the fleet had been reinforced with an American aircraft carrier it was strong enough to take more aggressive actions against the Japanese and these are described in vivid detail Charles Stephenson's authoritative study should appeal to readers who have a special interest in the war with Japan in naval history more generally and Royal Navy in particular Praise for The Eastern Fleet and the Indian Ocean 1942 1944 This meticulously researched outstandingly clear well written and absorbing account is long overdue and will most likely become a standard work The text is most helpfully supported by over 80 pages of detailed end notes referenced to each chapter and a detailed index This is not only a book for naval historians but also for anyone with an interest in the War in the Indian Ocean region Highly recommended Military Historical Society I enjoyed this book it gives us an account of an often neglected part of the war at sea and of the achievements of Admiral Somerville who kept his fleet intact in the face of a potentially overwhelming opponent then was willing to acknowledge that his fleet needed to improve massively before it could take on the Japanese Dr John Rickard author and webmaster of the Military History Encyclopedia on the Web

The Economics of Defense Industry Thomas-Durell Young, 2023-10-17 This book on the economics of defence industry assesses a series of historical and contemporary case studies that consistently demonstrate the need for governments to recognise and thereafter factor the financial needs of a narrow industrial sector that is capital intensive technologically advanced and that requires a highly skilled labour force Since the end of the cold war Western governments have systematically reduced financial support to their domestic defence industry and have seemingly ignored planning and funding industrial mobilisation In all cases government policy has been to encourage industries to consolidate capacity to become financially viable in a sector that has seen diminished demand The 2022 Russian invasion of Ukraine has caused Western governments to reassess their previous assumptions Efforts to increase industrial capacity have been met with the iron laws of economics whereby businesses need to show return on investments The chapters in this volume posit that efforts to rationalise industrial capacity and innovation to meet short term financial efficiencies inevitably results in limited expensive and long delays in increased production in times of international crisis This book serves as an essential guide for academics researchers and students interested in defence economics industrial economics international relations and industrial policy The chapters in this book were originally published in various issues of Defense Security Analysis

The Palgrave Handbook of Globalization with Chinese Characteristics Paulo Afonso B. Duarte, Francisco José B. S. Leandro, Enrique Martínez Galán, 2023-01-07 This handbook offers readers various perspectives on globalization and multilateralism with Chinese characteristics Its originality is derived from the hybrid approaches the handbook takes where chapters provide complementary intertwined and multi level analysis on the topic Based on contributions of scholars and practitioners from a number of countries the handbook helps readers to comprehend ongoing debates on the Belt and Road Initiative and global governance within a shifting balance of world power characterized by competing views between Western and Chinese norms standards values and narratives Split into three Parts and consisting of 46 chapters the handbook views globalization as comprehensive concept that benefits from the contributions of various disciplines such as geography geo economics political science and international relations In producing one of the most ambitious and updated outputs on the topic the handbook as a whole seeks to discuss what globalization with Chinese characteristics looks like and the role of the Belt and Road Initiative in this process

Moral Injury and Nonviolent Resistance Alice Lynd, Staughton Lynd, 2017-05-01 When ordinary people have done seen or failed to prevent something that betrays their deeply held sense of right and wrong it may shake their moral foundation They may feel that what they did was unforgivable In this thoughtful book culled from a wide range of experiences Alice and Staughton Lynd introduce readers to what modern clinicians philosophers and theologians have attempted to describe as moral injury Moral injury if not overcome can lead to an individual giving up turning to drugs alcohol or suicide But moral injury can also demand that one turn one s life around It offers hope because it indicates resistance to the use of violence that offends a sense of decency Within the military and in prisons institutions created to use force and violence against perceived enemies there have arisen new forms of saying No to violence From combat veterans of America s foreign wars to Israeli refuseniks and from hardened criminals in supermax confinement in Ohio to hunger strikers in California s Pelican Bay prison the Lynds give us the voices of those breaking the cycle of violence with courageous acts of nonviolent resistance As we become more awake to the horrors that we as a society have done or failed to prevent and when we become aware of what conscience demands of us in the face of recognizable violations of fundamental human rights we may take heart from the exemplary actions by individuals and groups of individuals described in this book

The Handbook of African Defence and Armed Forces Evert Kleynhans, Marco Wyss, 2025-03-01 The Handbook of African Defence and Armed Forces provides the first in depth and multifaceted analysis of the evolution and current state of national defence policies strategies doctrines capabilities security challenges and strategic responses of African states and their armed forces Geographically these aspects are investigated at the national sub regional and regional levels Chronologically they are analysed against the backdrop of the superpower withdrawal from the continent in the 1990s and the so called New Scramble for Africa which has seen a crescendo of renewed great power interest in the continent's resources as well as its strategic role location and relevance since the 2000s The book takes a bottom up and African centric approach and is organized around five key themes i the differing security outlooks and defence policies of African powers within the region and the different sub regions ii the strategies doctrines transformation and employment of African armed forces iii the relationship between African armed forces with sub regional regional and international organizations iv the challenges that African states and their armed forces have been facing and their strategic responses and v the position of African perspectives and agency in the context of continental and international security and defence Understanding African security and defence especially in terms of each individual nation's ability to contribute to peacekeeping operations counterterrorism border security and internal security requires a focus on the national level of armed forces and defence policies this in turn sheds light on sub regional and regional divergences challenges and cooperation Based on this framework the chapters in this volume offer comprehensive African perspectives on African and international security and defence and in doing so show the agency of the continent's countries and armed forces in International Security and Relations Air Power in the Indian Ocean and the Western Pacific Howard M.

Hensel,2020-06-04 This book examines the security dynamics of the Indian Ocean and the Western Pacific concentrating upon an analysis and evaluation of the air power capabilities of the various powers active in the two regions The volume is designed to help improve understanding of the heritage and contemporary challenges confronting the global community in the Indian Ocean and the Western Pacific as well as to illuminate the policies of the various powers involved in the affairs of these regions and the military capabilities that are available in support of those policies The 16 individual chapters examine both the traditional and the non traditional threats that confront the various Indian Ocean and Western Pacific powers and assess the roles played by land based and naval fixed wing and rotary wing manned and unmanned aircraft as well as by offensively and defensively capable ballistic and cruise missiles in addressing these challenges In doing so the various chapters analyze and evaluate the air power doctrine capabilities deployment patterns and missions of the respective states In addition they assess the future issues challenges and responses involving air power as it acting in concert with other military instruments seeks to contribute to securing and promoting the interests of the state This book will be of much interest to students of air power strategic studies Asian and Middle Eastern politics and International Relations The
