Women's Writing in Nineteenth-Century France Alison Finch, 2000-08-10 This is the most complete critical survey to date of women's literature in nineteenth century France. Alison Finch's wide ranging analysis of some 60 writers reflects the rich diversity of a century that begins with Mme de Staël's cosmopolitanism and ends with Rachilde's perverse eroticism. Finch's study brings out the contribution not only of major figures like George Sand but also of many other talented and important writers who have been unjustly rejected including Flora Tristan, Claire de Duras and Delphine de Girardin. Her account opens new perspectives on the interchange between male and female authors and on women's literary traditions during the period. She discusses popular and serious writing: fiction, verse, drama, memoirs, journalism, feminist polemic, historiography, travelogues, children's tales, religious and political thought, often brave innovative texts linked to women's social and legal status in an oppressive society. Extensive reference features include bibliographical guides to texts and writers. David Hicks Ashley Hicks, 2003 David Hicks is considered to be among the foremost interior designers of the 20th century. From the decoration of his own house in London in 1956 in powerful colors that heralded an end to the drab postwar English look, he set the pace for interior design both in Europe and America. David Hicks Designer looks at the most vital period of his career from 1958 to 1979. Presenting 200 original color photos many never before published, it displays a decorating oeuvre that ranged from apartments for Helena Rubinstein, the Niarchos children and the Prince of Wales to yachts, private jets and the glamorous New York offices of British Steel. Central to the book are the interiors of his own houses where he mixed antique and modern with a groundbreaking command of style and color. This book is a splendid overview of the entire range of the designer's vision and talents with chapters on English and New York interiors interspersed with sections on his designs for stores and offices, furniture and carpets, fabrics and wallpapers, tablescapes, graphics and books. La maison de Jade Madeleine Chapsal, 2014-04-01 En cette maison de jade le drame et les protagonistes sont aussi authentiques qu'ils sont imaginaires.
