but not many who took responsibility for teaching their own kids before they even entered a school building Street education is what most of my peers learned before grade school We had to learn how to cook and clean behind one another because most of my friends including my brother and I didn't have a father in our home So our mom struggled a lot to maintain a stable home while trying to keep us safe from the streets Sometimes our only escape from the dangers of our community was sports So when we played we played hard But never was I ever challenged more than when I put that stick in my hand
