

The background of the book cover is a romantic illustration of a man and a woman in a Western setting. The woman, on the left, has blonde hair in a braid and wears a blue dress with white lace. The man, on the right, has dark hair and wears a brown fringed vest over a light shirt. They are embracing and about to kiss. The background shows a sunset over a field of yellow wildflowers.

Approaches to the African Novel Charles E. Nnolim, 2010 This Third Edition of Approaches to the African Novel is a child of necessity Because of the unfortunate death of the publisher of Saros International who issued the First Edition and high demand this third enlarged edition has become imperative Three new essays all previously published are added two expectedly on Achebe the father of the African novel and one on Mongp Beti s Mission to Kala which was partially anthologised in Contemporary Literary Criticism Volume 27 1984 Achebe s Things Fall Apart as an Igbo national epic has evoked a spate of reactions from critics of African literature especially the troika Chinweizu et al in Toward the Decolonization of African Literature It was also anthologised in Modern Black Literature edited by S Okechukwu Menu 1971 The essay on Arrow of God whose structure and meaning has been largely avoided by other critics is included here for further airing For gender balance as the previous volume contained no essays on women writers an essay on Flora Nwapa has been added Since the novels discussed in this volume exclusively are on the African literature south of the Sahara the last essay on Peter Abrahams comes in to round out this collection of essays with a study of a south African writer for geographical balance

Through Postcolonial Eyes Robert Fraser, 2008-08-18 This surprising study draws together the disparate fields of postcolonial theory and book history in a challenging and illuminating way Robert Fraser proposes that we now look beyond the traditional methods of the Anglo European bibliographic paradigm and learn to appreciate instead the diversity of shapes that verbal expression has assumed across different societies This change of attitude will encourage students and researchers to question developmentally conceived models of communication and move instead to a re formulation of just what is meant by a book an author a text Fraser illustrates his combined approach with comparative case studies of print script and speech cultures in South Asia and Africa before panning out to examine conflicts and paradoxes arising in parallel contexts The re orientation of approach and the freshness of view offered by this volume will foster understanding and creative collaboration between scholars of different outlooks while offering a radical critique to those identified in its concluding section as purveyors of global literary power The South African Novel in English Kenneth
