England and Wales Great Britain. Local Government Board,1875 ... Return of Owners of Land, 1873 England. Local Government Board,1875 Return of Owners of Land, 1873 Great Britain. Local Government Board,1875 The Tragedy of the Commodity Stefano B. Longo,Rebecca Clausen,Brett Clark,2015-06-25 Winner of the 2017 Paul Sweezy Marxist Sociology Book Award from the American Sociological Association Although humans have long depended on oceans and aquatic ecosystems for sustenance and trade only recently has human influence on these resources dramatically increased transforming and undermining oceanic environments throughout the world Marine ecosystems are in a crisis that is global in scope rapid in pace and colossal in scale In The Tragedy of the Commodity sociologists Stefano B Longo Rebecca Clausen and Brett Clark explore the role human influence plays in this crisis highlighting the social and economic forces that are at the heart of this looming ecological problem In a critique of the classic theory the tragedy of the commons by ecologist Garrett Hardin the authors move beyond simplistic explanations such as unrestrained self interest or population growth to argue that it is the commodification of aquatic resources that leads to the depletion of fisheries and the development of environmentally suspect means of aquaculture To illustrate this argument the book features two fascinating case studies the thousand year history of the bluefin tuna fishery in the Mediterranean and the massive Pacific salmon fishery Longo Clausen and Clark describe how new fishing technologies transformations in ships and storage capacities and the expansion of seafood markets combined to alter radically and permanently these crucial ecosystems In doing so the authors underscore how the particular organization of social production contributes to ecological degradation and an increase in the pressures placed upon the ocean The authors highlight the historical political economic and cultural forces that shape how we interact with the larger biophysical world A path breaking analysis of overfishing The Tragedy of the Commodity yields insight into issues such as deforestation biodiversity loss pollution and climate change Modeling Methods for Marine Science David M. Glover,William J. Jenkins,Scott C. Doney,2011-06-02 This advanced textbook on modeling data analysis and numerical techniques for marine science has been developed from a course taught by the authors for many years at the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute The first part covers statistics singular value decomposition error propagation least squares regression principal component analysis time series analysis and objective interpolation The second part deals with modeling techniques finite differences stability analysis and optimization The third part describes case studies of actual ocean models of ever increasing dimensionality and complexity starting with zero dimensional models and finishing with three dimensional general circulation models Throughout the book hands on computational examples are introduced using the MATLAB programming language and the principles of scientific visualization are emphasised Ideal as a textbook for advanced students of oceanography on courses in data analysis and numerical modeling the book is also an invaluable resource for a broad range of scientists undertaking modeling in chemical biological geological and physical oceanography Creation and the

Sovereignty of God Hugh J. McCann, 2012-07-20 Creation and the Sovereignty of God brings fresh insight to a defense of God Traditional theistic belief declared a perfect being who creates and sustains everything and who exercises sovereignty over all Lately this idea has been contested but Hugh J McCann maintains that God creates the best possible universe and is completely free to do so that God is responsible for human actions yet humans also have free will and ultimately that divine command must be reconciled with natural law With this distinctive approach to understanding God and the universe McCann brings new perspective to the evidential argument from evil West's Southern Reporter ,1995 A Flood of Pictures
