Fake Stuff Yi-Chieh Jessica Lin,2011-03-29 The Anthropology of Stuff is part of a new Series dedicated to innovative unconventional ways to connect undergraduate students and their lived concerns about our social world to the power of social science ideas and evidence Our goal with the project is to help spark social science imaginations and in doing so new avenues for meaningful thought and action Each Stuff title is a short 100 page mini text illuminating for students the network of people and activities that create their material world Yi Chieh Lin reveals how the entrepreneurial energy of emerging markets such as China includes the opportunity to profit from fake stuff that is counterfeit goods that rely on our fascination with brand names Students will discover how the names and logos embroidered and printed on their own clothes carry their own price tag above and beyond the use value of the products themselves The book provides a wonderful introduction for students to global markets and their role in determining how they function The Right to Repair Aaron Perzanowski, 2022-02-08 In recent decades companies around the world have deployed an arsenal of tools including IP law hardware design software restrictions pricing strategies and marketing messages to prevent consumers from fixing the things they own While this strategy has enriched companies almost beyond measure it has taken billions of dollars out of the pockets of consumers and imposed massive environmental costs on the planet In The Right to Repair Aaron Perzanowski analyzes the history of repair to show how we've arrived at this moment when a battle over repair is being waged largely unnoticed in courtrooms legislatures and administrative agencies With deft lucid prose Perzanowski explains the opaque and complex legal landscape that surrounds the right to repair and shows readers how to fight back American Cinematographer , 2002 Management Principles and Practices by Lallan Prasad and SS Gulshan , Functional Photography , 1979
