Fighter Aces of the Great War Stephen Wynn, Tanya Wynn, 2020-04-30 A look at the transformation of aerial combat during World War I and the pilots of every country who were celebrated for shooting down enemy aircraft By the time of the outbreak of the First World War aviation was only eleven years old The daddy of battlefield warfare until that point in time had been the cavalry a position it maintained even as war was declared on the Western Front Aircraft were not initially seen as an offensive weapon and were instead used by both sides as observation platforms or to take aerial photographs Even when they were eventually used in an offensive capacity they did not have machine guns attached to them if the crew wanted to open fire then they had to use a pistol or rifle As the war progressed so the use of aircraft changed from being an observational tool to that of a fighter and bomber aircraft something that had never been foreseen at the outbreak of the war This book looks at the fighter aces from all sides These were pilots who had been credited with shooting or forcing down a minimum of five enemy aircraft of which there were hundreds While some of these aces survived many of them were killed The most famous fighter ace of all is without doubt the German pilot known as the Red Baron Manfred von Richthofen It s the legendary stuff I was brought up on reading about first world war dogfights Stephen Wynn and Tanya Wynn weave a good tale between them absolutely enthralling Books Monthly

No Empty Chairs Ian Mackersey, 2012-05-10 The 1914-18 conflict narrated through the voices of the men whose combat was in the air This moving book uses letters and diaries to evoke the terrible cost of such warfare Sleepless nights separated lovers and grieving parents are recalled with painful immediacy in this meticulously researched tribute to those who died or were lucky enough to survive DAILY MAIL The empty chairs belonged all too briefly to the doomed young First World War airmen who failed to return from the terrifying daily aerial combats above the trenches of the Western Front The edict of their commander in chief was the missing aviators were to be immediately replaced Before the new faces could arrive the departed men's vacant seats at the squadron dinner table were sometimes poignantly occupied by their caps and boots placed there in a sad ritual by their surviving colleagues as they drank to their memory Life for most of the pilots of the Royal Flying Corps was appallingly short If they graduated alive and unmaimed from the flying training that killed more than half of them before they reached the front line only a few would for very long survive the daily battles they fought over the ravaged moonscape of no man's land Their average life expectancy at the height of the war was measured only in weeks Parachutes that began to save their German enemies were denied them Fear of incarceration and the daily spectacle of watching close colleagues die in burning aircraft took a devastating toll on the nerves of the world's first fighter pilots Many became mentally ill As they waited for death or with luck the survivable wound that would send them back to Blighty they poured their emotions into their diaries and streams of letters to their loved ones at home Drawing on these remarkable testimonies and pilots memoirs Ian Mackersey has brilliantly reconstructed the First Great Air War through the lives of its participants As they waited to die the men shared their loneliness their fears triumphs and squadron gossip with the families who lived in daily dread of the knock on the door that would bring the War Office telegram in its fateful green envelope Poll book, South Warwickshire election, 1865, by H. Mills. 1868, by H. Mills Warwick county, 1869 Poll Book, South Warwickshire Election, 1868. By H. Mills, 1869 Dad's Best Memories and Recollections Charles J. Humber, 2016-01-19

DAD'S BEST MEMORIES AND RECOLLECTIONS is Chazz Humber's epitaph casting a very long and sentimental shadow across North America and beyond This 230 page volume is his granite monument well polished It lavishly records 125 of his best memories over a life span of nearly eighty years The vignettes are serenaded with more than 400 illustrations Those discovering this volume likely will find themselves wanting to record in their own sunset years their personal memories and recollections And when they do they are apt to recall what it was like to live in their fluctuating world dominated by a variety of personalities and cascading events Mr Humber vividly describes what it was like in 1945 to travel in a 1930 Model A Ford from Toronto to Boston With lively enthusiasm he reports what it was like to live in post World War II Boston to cook a lobster for a former President of the United States or to sell a pair of elevator shoes to one of Hollywood's shortest celebrities or to shine the shoes of a Derby hatted father of a future President of the United States It is not a remarkable achievement to reflect to recall or to have memories that are treasured But to tell them with literary aplomb to recall the events that happened nearly seventy five years ago with utmost clarity is definitely an admirable achievement and should be cherished not only by the kin who follow Mr Humber but by those who might like to imitate what he has monumentally achieved in Dad s Best Memories and Recollections
