Imagining the Self, Constructing the Past Meriem Pagès, Robert G. Sullivan, 2016-09-23 Imagining the Self Constructing the Past celebrates the various ways in which the Middle Ages and the Renaissance are adapted recollected and represented in our own day and age Most of the chapters fit broadly into one of three categories namely the representation of the self in medieval and early modern history and literature the recollection and utilization of the past in the Middle Ages and the Renaissance and the role of the medieval and the early modern in our own society Overall the contributions to this volume bear witness to the importance of representation to our understanding of ourselves each other and our shared past

The Gospel according to Star Wars John C. McDowell, 2007-03-02 Star Wars is one of the most beloved movie series of all time and in this book John McDowell explores the many spiritual themes that weave throughout the six films From the Force to the dark side the issues discussed in the films have a moral and spiritual complexity that if paid attention to can help us better understand our place in the world and our relation to others and to God George Lucas the creator of Star Wars did not intend for his films to be mere entertainment McDowell argues Rather he hoped his films would be used as a vehicle for moral education
