How Peripheral is the Periphery? Translating Portugal Back and Forth João Ferreira Duarte, Rita Bueno Maia, Marta Pacheco Pinto, 2015-09-18 This volume is a result of the need to reflect upon Portugal's position from the viewpoint of the literary assets imported and exported through translation It brings together a number of scholars working in the field of Translation Studies directly concerned with the Portuguese cultural system in order to analyse this question from various theoretical perspectives and from case studies of translation flows and movements in Portuguese culture By Translating Portugal Back and Forth the articles discuss issues such as how can one draw the borderline between a peripheral and a semi peripheral system Is this borderline useful or necessary How peripheral is the Portuguese cultural system as far as translation transfers are concerned How stable or pacific has this positioning been Does the economic and historical perception of Portugal as peripheral entail that from the viewpoint of translation it would behave similarly By addressing some of these questions and as shown by the second subtitle Essays in Honour of João Ferreira Duarte the volume pays homage to one of the most prominent Translation Studies scholars in Portugal who has extensively reflected on the binary discourse on translation its metaphors and images

Perceptions of China in Modern Portuguese Literature David Brookshaw, 2002 Annotation This work focuses specifically on the literature of the last one hundred years It shows how Portuguese orientalism at the turn of the last century while not ignoring orientalist influences from Northern Europe became woven into the perception writers had of their own country's history the discoveries Portugal had pioneered and its declining international role The fiction poetry and travel writing of authors who lived in or visited Macau invariably view China through the prism of Portugal's past history even though between the end of the nineteenth as at the end of the twentieth century new issues of gender and ethnicity and the emergence of a small Eurasian intelligentsia in Macau had lent variety to the literature This volume examines work by Camilo Pessanha Eça de Queiros Miguel Torga Deolinda da Conceição Maria Ondina Braga Henrique de Senna Fernandes and Rodrigo Leal de Carvalho

Chronology of Portuguese Literature Rogério Miguel Puga, 2020-05-15 This is the first Chronology of Portuguese Literature to be published in any language It presents a comprehensive year by year list of significant and representative works of literature published mainly in Portuguese from 1128 to the beginning of the current millennium As a reference tool it displays the continuity and variety of the literature of the oldest European country and documents the development of Portuguese letters from their origins to the year 2000 while also presenting the year of birth and death of each author This book is an ideal resource for students and academics of Portuguese literature and Lusophone cultures Empire Found Daniel F. Silva,2022-09-15 An Open Access edition of this book is available on the Liverpool University Press website and the OAPEN library as part of the Opening the Future project with COPIM Empire Found Racial Identities and Coloniality in Twenty First Century Portuguese Popular Cultures examines how the discourses and narratives of Portuguese imperial exceptionalism and Portuguese racial identity developed during the last centuries of Portuguese settler colonialism continue to inform an array of cultural production and consumption in the four decades since decolonization By examining a range of contemporary popular cultural production literature football musical production and celebrity culture in critical conversation with intellectual production of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Empire Found examines how narratives of Portuguese racial hybridity and indeterminacy operate alongside ongoing structures of coloniality and white supremacy in the realms of cultural production I argue that these implied or overt historical dialogues carried out through cultural production are integral to the very reproduction of the Portuguese nation state apparatus as well as its racial structures and claims to whiteness in the wake of decolonization and marginal integration into the European Union Historia de Portugal.
