Representing Autism Stuart Murray, 2008-01-01 From concerns about an autism epidemic to the MMR vaccine crisis autism is a source of peculiar fascination in the contemporary media Author Stuart Murray himself the parent of an autistic child contends that for all the coverage autism rarely emerges from the various images we produce of it as a comprehensible way of being in the world instead occupying a succession of narrative spaces as a source of fascination and wonder A refreshing analysis and evaluation of autism within contemporary society and culture Representing Autism establishes the autistic presence as a way by which we might more fully articulate our understanding of those with the condition and what it means to be a human This is an outstanding volume of empathetic scholarship Representing Autism is a truly significant piece of cultural criticism about one of the defining conditions of our time Mark Osteen Loyola College

A New Gomorrah Elizabeth Kinzer O'Farrell, 2009-08-26 The story in the New Gomorrah is about a Midwestern city so steeped in crime and corruption that a new minister Reverend Dr David Chandler at a prestigious church on Park Avenue feels he must do something about it In a challenging sermon he compares it to Gomorrah the ancient city of biblical times destroyed by fire because of its evil ways His compelling words are heard by Paul Chedder a cynical now burned out but once highly regarded investigative reporter for The Daily Chronicle the city's only daily newspaper Dr Chandler is popular among the young people in the church and has learned about the drug trafficking on the local college campus He is furious to hear about the gambling and prostitution rampant in the city the running of crap games at the American Legion Hall and berates local authorities for doing nothing about the bookie operation next to the Civic Center He decides to bring such matters to the attention of his congregation in his sermon The city s crime problems expand with the assassination of the drug kingpin and Pauls ongoing private investigations into a nursing home swindle the possibility of corruption in City Hall the death of two young reporters working with him and his own near death at the hands of the assassin While Paul is recuperating the trusted members of the citizens committee decide to share Pauls suspicions of the Mayors involvement with the trusted District Attorney working together to get crime off of the streets

Semantics, Tense, and Time Peter Ludlow, 1999-09-03 According to Peter Ludlow there is a very close relation between the structure of natural language and that of reality and one can gain insights into long standing metaphysical questions by studying the semantics of natural language In this book Ludlow uses the metaphysics of time as a case study and focuses on the dispute between A theorists and B theorists about the nature of time According to B theorists there is no genuine change but a permanent sequence of events ordered by an earlier than later than relation According to the version of the A theory adopted by Ludlow a position sometimes called presentism there are no past or future events or times what makes something past or future is how the world stands right now Ludlow argues that each metaphysical picture is tied to a particular semantical theory of tense and that the dispute can be adjudicated on semantical grounds A presentism compatible semantics he claims is superior to a B theory semantics in a number of respects including its abilities to handle the indexical nature of temporal discourse and to account for facts about language acquisition Along the way Ludlow develops a conception of E type temporal anaphora that can account for both temporal anaphora and complex tenses without reference to past and future events His view has philosophical consequences for theories of logic self knowledge and memory As for linguistic consequences Ludlow suggests that the very idea of grammatical tense may have to be dispensed with and replaced with some combination of aspect modality and evidentiality

God versus Particle Physics John Davies, 2013-09-04 The book presents the conclusions of a psychologist seeking to make sense of contemporary particle physics as described in a number of popular science texts and media articles written by physicists seeking to explain the workings of the sub atomic world The accounts it is argued are a mutually exclusive and contradictory and b metaphysical or magical in essence Themes of the book include a discussion of the way we allow physicists to invent things that have no perceivable qualities on the grounds that they must be there because otherwise their preconceptions are wrong or their sums don t work that from a psychological perspective contemporary theory in particle physics has the same properties as any other act of faith and the same limitations as belief in God and that physics has now reached a point at which increasingly physicists research their own psychological constructions rather than anything which is unambiguously there or real It encourages people to ask basic questions of the type we often use to question the existence of God such as Where is he it
