

Mexican Consulate in Milan, Italy

Milan, Italy, 20th February 2015

Miss Linda Giozza collaborated with the Mexican Consulate of Milan, Italy, doing an internship from the 17th of November 2014 to the 17th of February 2015. Miss Giozza specialised, in particular, in the consular services, performing jobs of assistance to the public, control of the requirements for the release of the documents (visas, passports, certificates and other papers), telephone information service and control of the email inbox.

During her internship at the Mexican Consulate, Miss Giozza has always performed her tasks with efficiency and competence, demonstrating at all times to have responsibility, diligence, discretion and a fast learner ability, spirit of initiative and problem solving skills. Furthermore, her polite, cheerful and respectful character has proved to have a positive response in dealing with the public and in the relationship with the colleagues.

Regards,

Gabina Maria Beatriz Baños Gaxga
Consul of Documentation

Straw Man Argumentation Fabrizio Macagno, Douglas Walton, 2017-09-06 This book shows how research in linguistic pragmatics philosophy of language and rhetoric can be connected through argumentation to analyze a recognizably common strategy used in political and everyday conversation namely the distortion of another's words in an argumentative exchange Straw man argumentation refers to the modification of a position by misquoting misreporting or wrenching the original speaker's statements from their context in order to attack them more easily or more effectively Through 63 examples taken from different contexts including political and forensic discourses and dialogs and 20 legal cases the book analyzes the explicit and implicit types of straw man shows how to assess the correctness of a quote or a report and illustrates the arguments that can be used for supporting an interpretation and defending against a distortion The tools of argumentation theory a discipline aimed at investigating the uses of arguments by combining insights from pragmatics logic and communication are applied to provide an original account of interpretation and reporting and to describe and illustrate tactics and procedures that can be used and implemented for practical purposes This book will appeal to scholars in the fields of political communication communication in general argumentation theory rhetoric and pragmatics as well as to people working in public speech speech writing and discourse analysis Fellowships and Summer Stipends , 1996

Interpreting China's Economy Gregory C. Chow, 2010 Beginning with entrepreneurship that propels the dynamic economic changes in China today this book is organized into four broad parts to discuss China's economic development to analyze significant economic issues to recommend economic policies and to comment on the economic issues in the American economy for comparison Contextual Frames of Reference in Translation Ernst Wendland, 2014-04-08 Bible translation theory and practice rightly tend to focus on the actual text of Scripture But many diverse yet interrelated contextual factors also play an important part in the implementation of a successful translation program The aim of this coursebook is to explore in varying degrees of detail a wide range of these crucial situational variables and potential influences using a multidisciplinary approach to the task Thus in order to expand and enrich the field of vision a progressive study of this complex process of intercultural interlinguistic communication is carried out according to a set of overlapping sociocultural organizational and situational cognitive orientations These contextual factors provide a broader frame of reference for analyzing interpreting and communicating the original Scriptures in a completely new contemporary setting of transmission and reception The three dimensions are then applied in a practical way to explore the dramatic throne room vision of the Apostle John Revelation 4 5 with reference to both the original Greek text and also a modern dynamic translation in Chewa a southeastern Bantu language of Africa A variety of exercises and assignments to stimulate critical and creative reflection as well as to illustrate the theoretical development of Contextual Frames of Reference is provided every step of the way Not only is translation per se discussed but the teaching and evaluation of translated texts and versions are also considered from several points of view in the final three chapters An Appendix offers a foundational essay by Professor Lourens de Vries on the subject of primary orality and the influence of this vital factor in the crosscultural communication of the Bible

Russian Writers on Translation Brian James Baer, Natalia Olshanskaya, 2014-07-16 Since the early eighteenth century following Peter the Great's policy of forced westernization translation in Russia has been a very visible and much discussed practice Generally perceived as an important service to the state and the nation translation was also viewed as a high art leading many Russian poets and writers to engage in literary translation in a serious and sustained manner As a result translations were generally regarded as an integral part of an author's oeuvre and of Russian literature as a whole This volume brings together Russian writings on translation from the mid 18th century until today and presents them in chronological order providing valuable insights into the theory and practice of translation in Russia Authored by some of Russia's leading writers such as Aleksandr Pushkin Fedor Dostoevskii Lev Tolstoi Maksim Gorkii and Anna Akhmatova many of these texts are translated into English for the first time They are accompanied by extensive annotation and biographical sketches of the authors and reveal Russian translation discourse to be a sophisticated and often politicized exploration of Russian national identity as well as the nature of the modern subject Russian Writers on Translation fills a persistent gap in the literature on alternative translation traditions highlighting the vibrant and intense culture of translation on Europe's periphery Viewed in a broad cultural context the selected texts reflect a nuanced understanding of the Russian response to world literature and highlight the attempts of Russian writers to promote Russia as an all inclusive cultural model
