Review Questions

1. The general sense receptors found in the skin are (1) free nerve endings—unencapsulated specialized receptors in skin that respond to pain, touch, and possibly temperature; (2) Meissner's corpuscles—sensory receptors located in the skin close to the surface that detect light touch and vibration; (3) Ruffini's corpuscles—encapsulated sensory nerve endings found in the subcutaneous tissue of fingers and dermis of the skin that detect touch and pressure; (4) pacinian corpuscles—receptors found deep in the dermis and subcutaneous tissue that detect pressure and vibration; (5) Krause's end-bulbs—receptors found in the dermis and subcutaneous tissue that detect touch, low-frequency vibration, and possibly temperature.
2. (1) Golgi tendon receptors—found near junction of tendons and muscles; able to recognize body position. (2) Muscle spindles—found in skeletal muscle; able to detect position and movement.
3. As the fibers of the iris contract, the pupils dilate, letting in more light. Other fibers are circular. When they contract, the pupils constrict, letting in fewer light rays. Normally the pupils constrict in bright light and dilate in dim light.
4. When we look at an object from a distance, the ciliary muscle is in a relaxed state. The lens has only a slightly curved shape. When we focus on near objects, the ciliary muscle contracts, pulling the choroid coat forward toward the lens, thereby causing the lens to bulge and curve even more.
5. Presbyopia is farsightedness, a common condition that occurs as we age. It is the inability to focus on close objects because our lenses have lost their elasticity and can no longer bulge enough to bring near objects into focus.
6. The retina contains microscopic receptor cells called rods and cones. The rods are receptors for night vision and can be stimulated by dim light. Cones are receptors for daytime vision and need bright light to be stimulated.
7. Glaucoma is a disorder characterized by elevated pressure in the eye. When drainage of aqueous humor in the anterior chamber of the eye is blocked, pressure increases, resulting in damage that could lead to blindness.
8. Cataract formation may occur in one or both eyes. It is a condition in which the lens of the eye becomes hard and loses transparency, taking on a milky appearance. In some individual's exposure to ultraviolet radiation in sunlight may cause cataracts to form. The condition tends to be progressive and may result in blindness. Cataracts can be removed surgically and a defective lens can be replaced.
9. The inner most layer of the retina contains the rods and cones, which are the photoreceptor cells of the eye. The fovea centralis is a small depression in the retina which contains the greatest concentration of cones of any area of the retina. Greatest visual acuity, or sharpness of visual perception, can be obtained if we look directly at an object and focus the image on the fovea. No rods or cones are present in the area of the retina where the optic nerve fibers exit the eye. The point of exit known as the optic disc, is therefore called the blind spot.
10. The external ear is composed of two parts: (1) the auricle is the appendage on the side of the head surrounding the opening of the external auditory canal; (2) the external acoustic canal is a curved tube that extends into the temporal bone and ends at the tympanic membrane.

GUIDE BOOK TO PLANNING - A COMMON SENSE APPROACH Robert M. Donnelly, 2006-05-24 Any book on planning has to be easy to read and full of examples on how to do it with forms and illustrations That is exactly what this book is and why it is called a guidebook The fact that most people do not plan well is well documented by the demographics of the population and the economic situation that a growing senior population is faced with now due to poor planning or no planning earlier in their lives Since company s are run by people they exhibit the idiosyncrasies of the people who run them Many company s do not have strategic plans or operating plans Some firms do not even have a budget and operate on a day by day basis The obvious result of this is crisis management cash flow problems and the constant risk of going out of business Many company s both large and small have disappeared due to the lack of a plan and this has been well documented in the business press Managers do not have a plan for their business because they do not have a plan for themselves Planning is not something that we are born with a natural ability to do well or in many cases at all Planning is a learned skill and there is a need for simple step by step guides which is what this book is about It has been written as a result of years of experience that the author has had working with hundreds of company s The foundation for the book is a process that the author calls the Plan for Planning a five step exercise that he has used to help managers build business plans for their company s It is a proven formula that has resulted in increased profitability operational efficiencies and the optimization of the overall allocation of resources for the author s clients It also has been the basis for the development of executive level seminars by the author that have been promoted and implemented by BUSINESS WEEK and Inc Magazine domestically and Frost Sullivan internationally The initial publication of this book was by Inc as a result of the success of the seminar series for their audience growing firms Articles have been written about the Plan for Planning process and it has been instrumental in the development of business plans that have resulted in company s being sold for a premium to the shareholders as a result of the quality of the business planning process The book has been used by many managers and in some cases continues to be a reference guide for the new businesses that they have become involved with It is really an easy to use guide for developing a business strategic plan for any business

Meaningful Participation and Sensory Processing Antoine Bailliard, Batya Engel-Yeger, Winnie Dunn, Catana Brown, 2022-11-15

The Impact of a Sense of Belonging in College Erin Bentrin, Gavin W. Henning, 2023-07-03 Sense of belonging refers to the extent a student feels included accepted valued and supported on their campus The developmental process of belonging is interwoven with the social identity development of diverse college students Moreover belonging is influenced by the campus environment relationships and involvement opportunities as well as a need to master the student role and achieve academic success Although the construct of sense of belonging is complex and multilayered a consistent theme across the chapters in this book is that the relationship between sense of belonging and intersectionality of identity cannot be ignored and must be integrated into any approach to fostering belonging Over the last 10 years colleges and universities have started grappling with the notion that their approaches to maintaining and increasing student retention persistence and graduation rates were no longer working As focus shifted to uncovering barriers to student success while concurrently recognizing student success as more than solely academic factors the term student sense of belonging gained traction in both academic and co curricular settings The editors noticed the lack of a consistent definition or an overarching theoretical approach as well as a struggle to connect disparate research A compendium of research applications and approaches to sense of belonging did not exist so they brought this book into being to serve as a single point of reference in an emerging and promising field of study
