Recovering A Journal:

Recovering May Sarton, 1980 Recovering May Sarton, 2014-12-16 An affecting diary of one year's hardships and healing by one of the twentieth century's most extraordinary memoirists. For decades readers have celebrated May Sarton's journals for their candid look at relationships, success and failure, communion with nature and the curious stages of aging. In Recovering Sarton focuses on her sixty-sixth year, one marked by the turmoil of a mastectomy, the end of a treasured relationship and the loneliness that visits a life of chosen solitude. Each deeply felt entry in the journal, written between 1978 and 1979, is laced with poignancy and honesty as she grapples with a cold reception for her latest novel, the sad descent of a close friend into senility and other struggles. Despite the trials of this one painful year, Sarton writes of her progression toward a hard-won renewal achieved through good friendships, the levity provided by her cherished dog and peaceful days in her garden. A candid account of Sarton's revival from personal darkness back into light, Recovering is another stunning entry in the author's irrepressible oeuvre.

Handbook of Addiction, Recovery and Quality of Life Maria Florence, Wouter Vanderplasschen, Mansoo Yu, Jessica De Maeyer, Shazly Savahl, 2025-01-25 This handbook brings together research and innovation across two important and related fields: quality of life (QoL) and addiction recovery. Though both fields of research are equally vibrant, this volume brings together the advancing scholarly exploration of the intersection between QoL and addiction recovery. It provides comprehensive coverage of the theoretical perspectives on QoL in the field of addiction and recovery, instruments and methodologies to assess QoL, different types of addiction in specific populations, and QoL and practices and interventions for supporting recovery and promoting QoL. It importantly includes international and intercultural perspectives on QoL and addiction recovery. By including sound theoretical, conceptual, historical, empirical, and cross-cultural contributions on QoL and addictions, the volume offers many opportunities for advancing support, treatment, and recovery of persons with addiction problems based on their subjective perspectives and experiences. This handbook is a go-to resource for a wide interdisciplinary readership interested in quality of life, research, subjective well-being, public health, and addiction research.

Recovery Monographs Volume II William White, 2015-11-06 The addiction treatment field is reaching a tipping point that is revolutionizing the ways that behavioral health leaders think about people with alcohol and other drug problems and how services and systems are developed. Recovery Management: Recovery Oriented Systems of Care contains six monographs by renowned recovery advocate William L. White and colleagues. These monographs provide insight and analysis of the topics important to today's addiction counselors and recovery coaches: recovery-oriented systems of care, recovery management, peer-based recovery services, and treating addiction as a chronic condition that requires ongoing management.

Giesbrecht,Valorie A. Crooks,2016-06-03 Although health equity and diversity focussed research has begun to gain momentum there is still a paucity of research from health geographers that explicitly explores how geographic factors such as place space scale community and location inform multiple axes of difference Such axes can include residential location age sex gender race ethnicity culture religion socio economic status marital status sexual orientation education level and immigration status Specifically focussing on Canada s rapidly changing society which is becoming increasingly pluralized and diverse this book examines the place health diversity intersection in this national context Health geographers are well positioned to offer a valuable contribution to diversity focussed research because place is inextricably linked to differential experiences of health For example access to health care and health promoting services and resources is largely influenced by where one is physically and socially situated within the web of diversity Furthermore applying geographic concepts like place in both the physical and social sense allows researchers to explore multiple axes of difference simultaneously Such geographic perspectives as presented in this book offer new insights into what makes diverse people in diverse places with access to diverse resources un healthy in different ways in Canada and beyond

Addiction Recovery Lore Bellaert, 2022-06-29 This doctoral study focuses on a relational approach to recovery as an addition to the dominant individualized interpretations of addiction recovery. It explores the enabling or disabling role of social networks and broader societal contexts in which recovery processes are embedded without disregarding the deeply personal nature of addiction recovery in terms of building a meaningful life. This dissertation is based on the Recovery Pathways REC PATH research project, a longitudinal and multi-country cohort study designed to map pathways to drug addiction recovery. Rooted in the policy, quantitative, and qualitative research phases of the REC PATH project, this study uncovers contextual dynamics at play in addiction recovery. Grounded in first-person accounts of recovery from drug use problems, we critically investigate the complex and ambiguous roles that interpersonal relationships, life circumstances, support services, and structural factors might play throughout recovery processes. Conceptualizing addiction recovery as a relational process of change has implications for how practice, policy, and research are organized. This dissertation thus provides tools for students, practitioners, and policymakers who want to contribute to developing recovery supportive environments that include attention to the contextual dimensions of recovery.
