Automotive Gear Lubricant Viscosity Classification Fuels and Lubricants TC 3 Driveline and Chassis Lubrication,2019 This SAE Standard defines the limits for a classification of automotive gear lubricants in rheological terms only Other lubricant characteristics are not considered The SAE J306 Standard defines the limits for a classification of automotive gear lubricants in rheological terms This standard is intended for use by equipment manufacturers in defining and recommending automotive gear axle and manual transmission lubricants In 1998 and 2005 SAE created new viscosity grades in SAE J306 to better balance fuel economy and durability In recent years there has been greater focus on lower viscosity automotive gear lubricants to reduce churning power loss and improve operating efficiency However the current SAE J306 specification does not adequately define future low viscosity fluids The newly revised SAE J306 standard addresses this shortcoming by tightening the broad kinematic viscosity window of SAE 80 grade as well as adding kinematic viscosity ranges for fluids below 7 cSt currently SAE 80 lower limit Ultimately this standard will enable a more precise classification of automotive gear oil products as innovation continues in this space Axle and Manual Transmission Lubricants Fuels and Lubricants TC 3 Driveline and Chassis Lubrication,2022 This SAE Information Report was prepared by the SAE Fuels and Lubricants Technical Committee for two purposes a to assist the users of automotive equipment in the selection of axle1 and manual transmission lubricants for field use and b to promote a uniform practice for use by marketers of lubricants and by equipment builders in identifying and recommending these lubricants by a service designation This SAE Information Report describes the overall performance characteristics of axle lubricants and heavy duty transmission fluids It will be a useful tool for those new to this industry The document has been updated to reflect the latest trends and specifications in the industry
