Engaged Language Policy and Practices Kathryn A. Davis, Prem Phyak, 2016-12-08 Engaged Language Policy and Practices re envisions language policy and planning as an engaged approach drawing on and portraying theoretical and educational equity perspectives It calls for the right to language policy making in which all concerned communities parents students educators and advocates collectively imagine new strategies for resisting global neoliberal marginalization of home languages and cultural identities This book subsequently emphasizes the means by which engaged dialectic processes can inform and clarify language policy making decisions that promote equity In other words rather than descriptions of outcomes the authors emphasize the need to detail the means by which local regional actors resist and transform inequitable policies These descriptions of processes thereby provide all actors with ideological pedagogical and equity policy tools that can inform situated school and community policy making This book depicts ways in which engaged language policy embodies the intersection of critical inquiry participant involvement and ongoing engaged language planning processes It further offers an alternative to the traditional top down approach to language education policy making Engaged Language Policy and Practices is essential reading for scholars teachers students communities and others concerned with worldwide language and identity equity

Emerging Voices Human Sciences Research Council, Education Policy Consortium (South Africa), 2005 This examination graphically illustrates the conditions that make dreams of a better life for all virtually unrealizable in rural areas of South Africa Through the voices of rural people themselves this study tells not only what the problems surrounding education are but also what can and should be done when the South African government launches its offensive against poverty in rural areas Rigorous and qualitative the text is an overview of the need of great numbers of people for the opportunities and capabilities that education can provide for their futures It also shows the existing situation of many impoverished populations worldwide and illustrates that poverty and inequality continue where such issues are not addressed

Breaking the Silence Ellen Grünkemeier, 2013 Examines the South African HIV AIDS epidemic through creative texts and the impact of these representations in determining which issues receive attention and how public understanding of the virus is shaped South Africa is one of the countries in the world most affected by HIV AIDS and yet until recently the epidemic was barely visible in South African literature Much can be gained from approaching the South African epidemic through creative texts such as novels photographs films cartoons and murals because they produce and circulate meanings of HIV AIDS and its various facets such as its origin transmission routes and physical manifestations Other aspects explored are the denial of HIV AIDS its stigmatisation discriminatory practices modes of disclosure access to anti retroviral medication as well as the role of alternative treatment Creative texts which are open to different and possibly contradictory readings can serve as a starting point to increase the cultural visibility of the virus and to challenge dominant ideas about the epidemic The cultural constructions of HIV AIDS should be carefully examined because the meanings are pervasive and have very real consequences they play a powerful role both in determining which issues receive attention and in shaping public understanding of the virus Ellen Gr nkemeier is a lecturer and researcher in the English Department at Leibniz University of Hanover Germany Her publications include two co edited volumes on postcolonial literatures and cultures Listening to Africa Anglophone African Literatures and Cultures 2012 and Postcolonial Studies across the Disciplines ASNEL Papers 19 forthcoming
