Chancellor,Grant D. Graham,2016-12-02 This unique text has been written as a practical reference for detectives crime scene investigators and prosecutors on how to recognize a staged scene and how this offender behavior could be used as evidence in subsequent trials The book is designed to help those actively engaged in conducting criminal investigations identify the red flags or those common findings at a crime scene that point to the scene being staged or altered and thereby assist the investigative process The text is not only research based but also includes the authors f 30 year experience and personal observations in conducting hundreds of different crime scene investigations ranging from homicide and death burglary and other property crimes to rape and other sexual crimes This experience also includes interviewing hundreds of victims and suspects and conducting investigations from initiation of cases through prosecution The authors have located hundreds of examples of staging and have included many of them as case studies throughout the text. Many of the case studies presented are based on the authors' personal involvement in them. In addition to defining and categorizing the various aspects of staging, the reader is also introduced to new terminology describing the different elements of staging based on offender motive and the dynamics of the events. Other major discussions include primary and secondary staging as well as the two subcategories of primary staging: premeditated and ad hoc staging. Staging by individuals other than the offender and victim, described as tertiary incidental scene alterations, are included as are several chapters on a variety of crimes and how to identify the red flags relevant to them. A final chapter is written especially for prosecutors and offers suggestions and references on how the concept of staging might be introduced in court. A very thorough Appendix provides reviews of many appellate court decisions from across the U.S. and Canada specifically addressing issues of staging.
