Kuby, Tara Gutshall Rucker, 2016-04-15 This book provides an introduction to poststructural and posthumanist theories in order to imagine new possibilities for expanding literacy education The authors put to work these theories in the context of an elementary school classroom examining literacy based activities that occur as students participate with materials in a multimedia writers studio Focusing on literacy processes the book emphasizes the fluid and sometimes unintentional ways multimodal artifacts come into being through intra actions with human and nonhuman materials Because these theories emphasize the unplanned nonlinear aspects of literacy the authors demonstrate an approach to literacy that works against the grain of standardization and rigid curricular models Go Be a Writer reveals that when educators appreciate the value of unscripted intra actions they allow for more authentic learning Handbook of Research on Mobile Technology, Constructivism, and Meaningful Learning Keengwe, Jared, 2017-10-31 Advancements in technology in modern societies have resulted in an abundance of new educational tools and aids Analyzing the effects of different mobile educational applications can provide insight into how technology can promote or discourage purposeful learning among students and educators alike The Handbook of Research on Mobile Technology Constructivism and Meaningful Learning is a crucial scholarly resource that examines the use of newly developed technology on classroom education Featuring pertinent topics that include collaborative learning social media integration virtual reality and critical thinking dispositions this publication is ideal for educators academicians students and researchers that are interested in expanding their knowledge on recent trends and technologies that are enhancing the educational field How Do I Get Them to Write? Karen Filewych, 2017-05-15 This remarkable book shows teachers how to inspire students to learn to write and write to learn Committed to the premise that all students can learn to write with appropriate teaching modelling and practice it argues that reading and writing go hand in hand Through reading writing and the inevitable discussions that follow students learn from the experiences of others open their minds to many possibilities gain a glimpse into new worlds make connections to their lives and reflect on their own choices and learning This practical book shows you how to use freewriting and powerful mentor texts to create classrooms where students enjoy putting pencil to paper and taking the necessary risks to grow and flourish as writers Flip Your Classroom Jonathan Bergmann, Aaron Sams, 2012-06-21 Learn what a flipped classroom is and why it works and get the information you need to flip a classroom You ll also learn the flipped mastery model where students learn at their own pace furthering opportunities for personalized education This simple concept is easily replicable in any classroom doesn t cost much to implement and helps foster self directed learning Once you flip you won t want to go back Technology and Digital Media in the Early Years Chip Donohue, 2014-08-07 A Co Publication of Routledge and NAEYC Technology and Digital Media in the Early Years offers early childhood teacher educators professional development providers and early childhood educators in pre service in service and continuing education settings a thought provoking guide to effective appropriate and intentional use of technology with young children This book provides strategies theoretical frameworks links to research evidence descriptions of best practice and resources to develop essential digital literacy knowledge skills and experiences for early childhood educators in the digital age Technology and Digital Media in the Early Years puts educators right at the intersections of child development early learning developmentally appropriate practice early childhood teaching practices children s media research teacher education and professional development practices The book is based on current research promising programs and practices and a set of best practices for teaching with technology in early childhood education that are based on the NAEYC FRC Position Statement on Technology and Interactive Media and the Fred Rogers Center Framework for Quality in Children s Digital Media Pedagogical principles classroom practices and teaching strategies are presented in a practical straightforward way informed by child development theory developmentally appropriate practice and research on effective appropriate and intentional use of technology in early childhood settings A companion website http://teccenter.erikson.edu/tech_in_the_early_years provides additional resources and links to further illustrate principles and best practices for teaching and learning in the digital age Virtual Training Jeb Blount, 2021-06-22 Remote learning has been around since the 18th century Caleb Phillips began advertising correspondence courses in the Boston Gazette in 1728 allowing people for the first time to learn new skills no matter where they lived For the past 300 years virtual training in its various formats has been meandering into shore on an inevitable yet slow building tide And then just like that everything changed A global pandemic Social distancing Working from home In an instant the tide became a tsunami The global pandemic accelerated the broad adoption of virtual instructor led training along with awareness that classroom based training is often expensive inefficient and fails to deliver a fair return on investment While it is certainly more challenging to re create the collaborative environment of the physical classroom in a virtual setting virtual training combines the structure accountability and social learning benefits of classroom training with speed agility and significant cost savings Simply put virtual training enables organizations to rapidly upskill more people while generating a far higher return on the training investment Virtual training is also green Studies indicate that virtual training consumes nearly 90% less energy and produces 85% fewer CO2 emissions than classroom training Still the biggest challenge with virtual training and the reason there has been so much resistance to it is historically the experience has been excruciating Not the quality of the curriculum or content Not the talent of the trainer The learning experience There are few people who haven't had the pleasure of sitting through agonizing virtual training sessions Death by voice over PowerPoint delivered by a disengaged instructor has an especially bitter flavor It is the way virtual training is delivered that matters most When the virtual learning experience is emotionally positive Participants are more engaged embrace new competencies and knowledge sticks Participants are more likely to show up to class and be open to future virtual training Trainers enjoy their work and gain fulfillment from making an impact Leaders book more virtual training Organizations more readily blend and integrate virtual training into learning development initiatives This is exactly what this book is about Virtual Training is the definitive guide to delivering virtual training that engages learners and makes new skills and behavioral changes stick Jeb Blount one of the most celebrated trainers and authors of our generation walks you step by step through the seven elements of effective engaging virtual learning experiences Trainer Mindset Emotional Discipline Production Technology Media Visuals Virtual Curriculum Instructional Design Planning Preparation Virtual Communication Skills Dynamic Interactive Training Delivery As you dive into these powerful insights and with each new chapter you'll gain greater and greater confidence in your ability to effectively deliver training in a virtual classroom Once you master virtual training delivery and experience the power of remote learning you may never want to go back to the physical classroom again
