Storm Toward Morning:

Rambleton Charles Sealsfield, 1847 Meteorology of Hydrologically Critical Storms in California Robert L. Weaver, 1962 The purpose of this report is to describe the more significant meteorological aspects of hydrologically critical storms in California Hydrometeorological Report No 36 Interim Report Probable Maximum Precipitation in California and the present report are companion publications directed to different aspects of the same over all investigation This report takes stock of major precipitation storms in the record with emphasis on recent storms not previously reviewed in Hydrometeorological Report No 36 applies the established storm and climatic characteristics to estimating probable maximum precipitation Hydrometeorological Report, 1962 Scribner's Monthly Josiah Gilbert Holland, Richard Watson Gilder, 1872 Travels and Discoveries in North and Central Africa Heinrich Barth, 1859 The Philosophy of Storms James Pollard Espy, 1841 Report of the Iowa Weather Service for the Year, 1880 Report of the Iowa Weather Service, 1880 The Second Wife Eugenie Marlitt, 1887 Hurricane Sisters Joan C. Harris, 2012-10-16 There are three ways to tell if a Low Country lady is a hurricane sister if she has a hurricane tracking map an ax in the attic and a hell or high water box in her possession In September of 1959 Hurricane Gracie barreled down on Beaufort South Carolina with enough violence to change the lives of the Low Country ladies forever With a hurricane forecast to arrive any minute Mrs Forester finds it hard not to worry As she nervously scans the gray skies rain spatters on her window A few hours later she and her family cower in bed as debris shatters windows But Mrs Forrester is not the only one who frantically searches the skies every time a hurricane is forecast Prudence Seabrook is just a girl in 1964 when she first considers death As thunder shakes her house she clings to her sister hoping no evil will pass This time she goes unscathed for all the hurricane sisters know that only years ending in 9 portend disaster This charming collection of short stories highlights an eclectic group of characters that prove that Low Country ladies of a certain age have every reason to scan the skies from June to November waiting watching and wondering Peterson's Magazine, 1860 New Peterson Magazine Ann Sophia Stephens, Charles Jacobs Peterson, 1860 Hurricane Hurry William Henry G. Kingston, 1874 Scribners Monthly, 1872 Travels and Discoveries in North and Central Africa (Complete) Heinrich Barth, On the 5th of October 1849 at Berlin Professor Carl Ritter informed me that the British Government was about to send Mr Richardson on a mission to Central Africa and that they had offered through the Chevalier Bunsen to allow a German traveller to join the mission provided he was willing to contribute two hundred pounds for his own personal travelling expenses I had commenced lecturing at the University of Berlin on comparative geography and the colonial commerce of antiquity and had just at that time published the first volume of my Wanderings round the Mediterranean which comprised my journey through Barbary Having undertaken this journey quite alone I spent nearly my whole time with the Arabs and familiarized myself with that state of human society where the camel is man's daily companion and the culture of the date tree his chief occupation I made long journeys through desert tracts I travelled all round the Great Syrtis and passing through the picturesque little tract of Cyrenaica traversed the whole country towards Egypt I wandered about for above a month in the desert valleys between Asw n and Kos r and afterwards pursued my journey by land all the way through Syria and Asia Minor to Constantinople While traversing these extensive tracts where European comfort is never altogether out of reach where lost supplies may be easily replaced and where the protection of European powers is not quite without avail I had often cast a wistful look towards those unknown or little known regions in the interior which stand in frequent though irregular connection with the coast As a lover of ancient history I had been led towards those regions rather through the commerce of ancient Carthage than by the thread of modern discovery and the desire to know something more about them acted on me like a charm In the course of a conversation I once held with a H usa slave in K f in the regency of Tunis he seeing the interest I took in his native country made use of these simple but impressive words Please God you shall go and visit Kan These words were constantly ringing in my ears and though overpowered for a time by the vivid impressions of interesting and picturesque countries they echoed with renewed intensity as soon as I was restored to the tranquillity of European life During my three years travelling I had ample opportunity of testing the efficacy of British protection I experienced the kindness of all Her Britannic Majesty s consuls from Tangiers to Br sa and often enjoyed their hospitality It was solely their protection which enabled me to traverse with some degree of security those more desert tracts through which I wandered Colonel Warrington Her Majesty s consul in Tripoli who seems to have had some presentiment of my capabilities as an African explorer even promised me his full assistance if I should try to penetrate into the interior Besides this my admiration of the wide extension of the British over the globe their influence their language and their government was such that I felt a strong inclination to become the humble means of carrying out their philanthropic views for the progressive civilization of the neglected races of Central Africa Under these circumstances I volunteered cheerfully to accompany Mr Richardson on the sole condition however that the exploration of Central Africa should be made the principal object of the mission instead of a secondary one as had been originally contemplated In the meantime while letters were interchanged between Berlin London and Paris where Mr Richardson at that time resided my father whom I had informed of my design entreated me to desist from my perilous undertaking with an earnestness which my filial duty did not allow me to resist and giving way to Dr Overweg who in youthful enthusiasm came immediately forward to volunteer I receded from my engagement But it was too late my offer having been officially accepted in London and I therefore allayed my father s anxiety and joined the expedition It was a generous act of Lord Palmerston who organized the expedition to allow two foreign gentlemen to join it instead of one A sailor was besides attached to it and a boat was also provided in order to give full scope to the object of exploration The choice of the sailor was unfortunate and Mr Richardson thought it best to send him back from M rzuk but the boat which was carried throughout the difficult and circuitous road by M rzuk Gh t A r and Z nder exciting the wonder and astonishment of all the tribes in the interior ultimately reached its destination though the director of the expedition himself had in the meanwhile unfortunately succumbed The Select Circulating Library ,1834 The Last of the Peterkins Lucretia P.
