Student Assessment in Turkey Kitchen Hannah, Bethell George, Fordham Elizabeth, Henderson Kirsteen, Li Richard Ruo Chen, 2019-09-09 Turkey's education system stands out internationally as a success story In recent decades participation has been vastly expanded becoming universal at lower levels of schooling and outperforming other middle income countries in upper secondary education However the education system is also marked by disparities with only around half of 15 year olds acquiring the essential competencies they need for life and work Assessment of learning Shrinkhla dubey, 2022-09-30 Assessment of learning Characteristics Objective Advantages Disadvantages The Construction of Disability in our Schools Kathryn Underwood, 2019-02-18 This book is about the meaning of disability in schools The experience of children with disabilities in schools has undergone substantial change over the last twenty years and more with many children who would have once been living in institutions now going to school alongside their peers With this monumental shift and the continuing increased participation of people with disabilities one might wonder what disability means In the age of institutionalisation disability referred to those people who were not able to actively participate in society As it turns out many of the people who were deemed unable to participate were so only because the society in which they lived had kept them from active participation through institutionalisation In Ontario Canada where the author lives and works many adults with disabilities continue to live in institutions and are also active in their communities So it is not just the institutions that disable people There are many reasons that people fall into the classification of disabled and for some this classification begins in an institution often in the institution of school This book explores the different beliefs that teachers and parents hold about disability and the types of barriers that cause disability and how these beliefs translate into education practice Centering Multilingual Learners and Countering Raciolinguistic Ideologies in Teacher Education Jeff

Bale, Shakina Rajendram, Katie Brubacher, Mama Adobea Nii Owoo, Jennifer Burton, Wales Wong, Yiran Zhang, Elizabeth Jean Larson, Antoinette Gagné, Julie Kerekes, 2023-09-12 This book details a three year multi stranded study of teacher education programs that prepare future teachers to work with multilingual learners The book examines how racism and linguisticism collaborate to shape the conditions under which teacher candidates learn how to teach The analysis traces dynamic shifts in thinking and practice as participants reflected on their personal professional and academic experiences in relation to formal curriculum and assessment policies to interpret what it means to work with multilingual learners in the classroom The book offers guiding principles above all learning from multilingual learners not only about them and presents a suite of teacher education practices to disrupt the interplay of language and race that so deeply shapes teacher candidate learning about multilingual learners

The Busy Educator's Guide to the World Wide Web Marjan Glavac, 2000

Between Caring & Counting Lindsay Kerr, 2006-01-01 One of the key planks of conservative Ontario premier Mike Harris's 1990s platform was education reform Amid a sea of official reports policy documents and expert opinions on education however the voices of actual classroom teachers were difficult to find This omission is redressed in Lindsay Kerr's Between Caring & Counting Through a focus group of present day secondary school teachers in Toronto Kerr delivers a passionate account of the unassailably negative changes affecting secondary education and teachers work From a critical feminist perspective and using institutional ethnography Kerr situates the problem in education squarely as a conflict between an accounting logic and an ethic of care at the centre of education practice She exposes paradoxes inherent in education reform such as the increase of government control at the same time that government funding for education decreases She also connects educational restructuring to changes in the power relations of gender class and race across the public education system These local changes she finds do not reflect sound pedagogy but the imperatives of neoliberal globalization Counteracting despair with hope Kerr explores self reflexive suggestions for teacher educators to exercise agency in their lives and to continue to work toward a just and equitable public education system

The Handbook of Canadian Boarding Schools

Ashley Thomson,1999-09-01 Private schools have frequently provided innovative experimental and creative programunavailable to students in the public system The most successful have survived and expanded by offering an educational experience widely perceived to be not just as good as that available in the public system but better In Canada private schools are enjoying an unprecedented popularity and while most are day only over sixty sustain boarding programs as do two off shore Canadian schools The Handbook of Canadian Boarding Schools presents information on the educational environment of each province then offers comparative information on each boarding school The information on each school includes basic data location history philosophy the campus boarding facilities health and safety administration and faculty student body and student conduct academic calendar and program information technology student activities and student conduct admission and costs The Handbook also supplies several appendices outlining important programs often available through boarding schools such as Advanced Placement courses and the International Baccalaureate For parents in Canada and abroad about to commit substantial sums to their children s education the Handbook of Canadian Boarding Schools is an essential tool to help them make the right decision It is also an indispensable resource for supporters of the public system looking for ideas that have worked elsewhere
