Policing in a Changing Vietnam Melissa Jardine, 2022-12-30 Knowledge about policing has been produced and disseminated unevenly so that our understanding comes from a skewed emphasis on the Anglo American experience Drawing on an original and comprehensive study of policing in Vietnam and engaging a Southern Criminological framework this book explores police cultures and practices in a postcolonial post Confucian transitioning economy Identifying both similarities and differences in policing and police culture in Vietnam with those found in the dominant literature from the Global North Policing in a Changing Vietnam challenges assumptions that police are purportedly apolitical averse to tertiary education and defer to legalistic approaches to policing and law enforcement It highlights that the variations identified in policing in Vietnam must be understood not as deviations from Anglo American normality but as significant separate practices and traditions of policing from which the Global North may have something to learn Contributing to ongoing debates on police culture and socialisation this book explores the assumptions about relationships between the police political systems broad societal cultures legal frameworks organisations communities and gender An accessible and compelling read this book will appeal to students and scholars of criminology policing gender studies sociology politics law and all those who are interested in understanding the experiences and views of the Vietnamese police

Ethnography and the Evocative World of Policing Matthew Bacon, Bethan Loftus, Mike Rowe, 2023-12-04 This book demonstrates the unique contribution police ethnographies make to our understanding of policing cultures and practices in a variety of international settings It features contemporary examples of police ethnographies that demonstrate the continuing value of ethnographic work to our understanding of policing The first section of the book focuses on the police and Anglo American policing The second section is international in scope and seeks to enrich our understandings of policing beyond the police Chapters explore police interactions during a stop and search and at a carnival They peer behind the scenes at the control room and at the use of intelligence We listen in to the experiences of new recruits and the stories told in canteens They also take us into the world of private security agencies to Kenya and to Vietnam The book explores the position of ethnographers asking whether we do too much with rather than on the police and whether our work reveals more about us as academics than them as officers Together they are revealing of a changing policing landscape Ethnography and the Evocative World of Policing demonstrates the unique value of ethnographic work in the fields of policing studies and criminology It will be a key resource for scholars and researchers of policing criminology sociology law and research methods The chapters in this book were originally published in two special issues of Policing and Society

New Frontiers in Forensic Linguistics Monwabisi Ralarala, Russell Kaschula, Georgina

Heydon,2019-06-25 The field of forensic linguistics is a niche area that has not enjoyed much participation from the African continent The theme of language and the law in this book is one that straddles two important aspects of the legal history of South Africa in particular and how it has impacted on the country s legal and education systems The declaration by the United Nations of 2019 as The International Year of Indigenous Languages is opportune not only for the launch of this book but for what its research content tells us of the strides taken in ensuring access to justice for all citizens of the world in a language they understand The contributions by authors in this book tell the story of many African citizens and those hailing from beyond our borders who straddle the challenges of linguistic and legal pluralism in courtrooms across their respective countries It is our hope that the contributions made in this book will assist in ensuring human rights become a reality for global citizens where indigenous voices have not been heard and that these citizens will be free to give their testimonies in a language of their choice and that they may be heard and understood
