Research in Education ,1970-05      Letters Without Capitals: Text and Practice in Kim Mun (Yao) Culture Jacob

Cawthorne,2020-12-29 Letters without Capitals Texts and Practices in Kim Mun Yao Culture examines the writing culture of Kim Mun communities in Southeast Asia and China The Kim Mun who belong to the Yao ethnic group are renowned for their Daoist religious practices and religious texts written in Chinese script This work takes an unpublished Kim Mun letter that was composed in Laos and sent to Vietnam as its centrepiece Through an analysis of the letter one which uses ethnographic accounts of Kim Mun communities and studies of Kim Mun literary and religious texts it demonstrates that writing is a cultural technology that primarily serves the purposes of the Kim Mun themselves rather than being an artefact of historical and cultural relationships of dependency on external state institutions or religious constituencies This has broad implications regarding our understanding of how writing can be adapted and deployed by minority communities on and beyond the margins of the state and of the underlying relationships between writing identity and power      Occupational Therapy for

Gustafsson,L. Hertzberg,2013-04-17

How is linguistic theory related to linguistic practice What do theoretical notions and models tell us about real life language use Are there any limits to what such notions and models can reasonably be taken to accomplish These questions are fundamental to any serious investigation into the phenomena of human communication The essays in this book show that philosophers and linguists of quite different brands have tended to give undue priority to their own favourite theoretical framework and have presupposed that the descriptive scheme invoked by that framework constitutes a pattern to which any linguistic practice somehow has to conform What unites the contributors to this volume is a critical attitude towards such essentialist aspirations By investigating several concrete examples of this tendency examples collected from such seemingly disparate areas as structuralism contemporary analytic philosophy and feminist epistemology the authors collectively manage to cast doubt on the very attempt to fit the whole of linguistic practice into a general theoretical mould Learn to speak and write Urdu in 30 days YouGuide Ltd, Children's Difficulties In Reading, Spelling and Writing Peter Pumfrey, Colin Elliott, 2013-10-15 Reflects a wide range of issues regarding children's literacy problems mainly at the primary school level The purposes of the book are twofold in part 1 to identify some challenges in the field of literacy and in part 2 to give an account of Script Development Craig Batty, Stacy Taylor, 2021-02-16 This book offers the first international look at how script development is theorised and practiced Drawing on interviews case studies discourse analysis creative practices and industry experiences it brings together scholars and practitioners from around the world to offer critical insights into this core but often hidden aspect of screenwriting and screen production Chapters speculate and reflect upon how creative commercial and social practices in which ideas emotions people and personalities combine cohere and clash are shaped by the practicalities policies and rapid movements of the screen industry Comprising two parts the book first looks into script development from a theoretical perspective and second looks out from the practice to form practitioner led perspectives of script development With a rising interest in screenwriting and production studies and an increased appetite for practice based research the book offers a timely mapping of the terrain of script development providing rich foundations for both study and practice
