The Quiet Trailblazer Mary Frances Early, 2021-09-15 The Quiet Trailblazer recounts Mary Frances Early's life from her childhood in Atlanta her growing interest in music and her awakening to the injustices of racism in the Jim Crow South Early carefully maps the road to her 1961 decision to apply to the master's program in music education at the University of Georgia becoming one of only three African American students With this personal journey we are privy to her prolonged and difficult admission process her experiences both troubling and hopeful while on the Athens campus and her historic graduation in 1962 Early shares fascinating new details of her regular conversations with civil rights icon Dr Martin Luther King Jr at Ebenezer Baptist Church in Atlanta She also recounts her forty eight years as a music educator in the state of Georgia the Southeast and at the national level She continued to blaze trails within the field and across professional associations After Early earned her master's and specialist's degrees she became an acclaimed Atlanta music educator teaching music at segregated schools and later being promoted to music director of the entire school system In 1981 Early became the first African American elected president of the Georgia Music Educators Association After she retired from working in public schools in 1994 Early taught at Morehouse College and Spelman College and served as chair of the music department at Clark Atlanta University Early details her welcome reconciliation with UGA which had failed for decades to publicly recognize its first Black graduate In 2018 she received the President's Medal and her portrait is one of only two women's to hang in the Administration Building Most recently Early was honored by the naming of the College of Education in her honor

Trailblazer Farooq Kathwari, 2019-09-03 Farooq Kathwari's extraordinary life began in politically divided Kashmir where his family was separated by government decree He had to leave home as a refugee helped his mother survive shock therapy joined student activists in street demonstrations and faced down a gun wielding security officer all by the age of seventeen Forced to become self reliant Kathwari journeyed to the United States talked his way into a bookkeeping job and earned a degree from NYU graduate school He launched his first entrepreneurial venture selling Kashmiri crafts out of his Brooklyn apartment When Kathwari's best customer the iconic furniture maker Ethan Allen needed fresh leadership he was asked to become its president He transformed the company and become one of America's most successful and admired CEOs Meanwhile spurred by the tragic loss of his teenaged son in war Kathwari dedicated himself to the cause of peace in Kashmir and around the world He hosted meetings with diplomats shuttled messages between heads of state and worked with global leaders on issues from human rights to refugee resettlement Brimming with drama insight and unexpected humor Trailblazer recounts a unique life story offering readers not just an engrossing journey but also the wisdom of an exceptional leader From Trailblazer When the American journalist told me he hoped to report the truth about the Kashmir uprising I decided to help The government people won t let you see what is really happening I said Why not let me take you around It was foolish of me to make such an offer I knew I was risking retribution by the security forces But I was a headstrong independent young man I wanted the truth to get out and I would do what I could to help that happen
