'Closing the Gap' Hans Bertens, 2023-11-20 Postmodern Studies deals with any aspect of postmodernism or of postmodernity and the postmodern in relation to literature Publications in this series can be either of a theoretical or a more practical analytic nature They may refer to any one or to several literary works genres or literatures They may also refer to the other arts provided the main focus remain literary In evaluating contributions the editors of Postmodern Studies will follow no particular methodological or ideological bias All manuscripts accepted in the series first undergo a process of peer review Due to rapid developments in literary studies we close the series for new publications Ursula Le Guin's Earthsea

John Plotz, 2023-04-15 A book on the experience of reading Ursula Le Guin's Earthsea novels What makes readers fall in love You might want to start your answer by explaining Ursula Le Guin She owned John Plotz at age eight on the overlit and understaffed second floor of the DC library Four decades and who knows how many re-readings later her Earthsea owns him still The reasons to love her Earthsea are many Le Guin sets readers adrift among worlds peripatetic but somehow at home She sublimely mixes comfort and revelatory emancipatory unsettlement Ursula Le Guin's Earthsea aims to do justice to both Le Guin's passionate simplicity and her resonant complexity. Small wonder the inspiration she has been for later speculative writers like Neil Gaiman, Kim Stanley Robinson and N. K. Jemisin. The boldness and coldness of the later three books of Earthsea is a revelation. In Tehanu, Tales from Earthsea and The Other Wind she turned a cold eye, a dragon's searching eye back on the comfortable green world she herself had made decades earlier. They unfold a distinctive vision of the writer's task: worldbuilding as responsibility plus openness. Call it invitational realism. She builds a world that leaves the real task of building, of creating, of imagining and of reimagining with her readers. Drawing on his own crooked path from a DC childhood to teaching in Prague to San Francisco journalism to graduate school and then parenthood, Plotz maps the ways that readers young and old find in Earthsea a kind of scholar's stone, a delightfully mutable surface that rewards recurrent contemplation.

British Literature 1640-1789 Robert DeMaria, Jr., 2018-06-18. An indispensable reference for scholars and students of eighteenth-century English literature. This addition to the celebrated Wiley Blackwell Keywords series explores the meanings of fifty-eight of the most important words in British literature of the period 1640-1789. Professor DeMaria focuses on words used with frequency and urgency throughout the works of most major and several minor writers of the British Neoclassical era, with the occasional reach back to the early seventeenth century for a definitive usage found in Francis Bacon, for instance, and look forward to the nineteenth century to the works of Wordsworth, Austen and Keats. Through discussions of words such as atom, economy, humanity, labor, machine, slavery, society and system, he reveals underlying assumptions about the way writers of the period thought about the physical and social world. Likewise, considerations of words such as happiness, passion, truth and virtue shed light on the ethical and moral commitments of the age. Unlike dictionaries and many big data semantics projects, this book brings forth the ambiguities, nuances and ironies that accrued to word usages during the period through a heightened awareness of the contexts in which they occurred. Highlights and exposes the salient cultural and literary debates and metamorphic moments of cultural thought. Reveals an increase in irony and a decrease in allegorical usage as an important trend in the evolution of literary language during the Neoclassical period. Stresses the contexts within which words or phrases appear in order to offer a fuller understanding of their meanings and significance than available from digital databases. Draws upon a vast compilation of sources from one of the most transformative eras of English literature. Rigorous in its scholarship and historical reach. British Literature 1640-1789: Keywords is an indispensable resource which scholars and students of British Neoclassical literature will want to keep close at hand. It is certain to become a fixture of most university reference libraries. Christian Temporalities Anna-Karina Hermkens, Simon Coleman, Matt Tomlinson, 2024-06-22

This volume explores how different forms of Christianity shape people's visions of pasts and futures and how the transcendent is brought into human time. Beyond conventional discussions around breaks with the past in Christian conversion and future ruptures announced in prophecy, the volume reveals previously unexplored ways in which Christians work with concepts of time and its articulation with divinity, subjectivity, agency and personal, social and political change. By developing Coleman's argument about historiopraxy in novel directions contributors provide new understandings of religious temporalities and the ritual articulation of immanence and transcendence While building upon previous scholarly work in the anthropology of Christianity this volume pushes the debate further and provides original insights into how religion is mobilised to shape and transform people's pasts presents and futures Women's Writing from the Low Countries 1880-2010 Jacqueline Bel, Thomas Vaessens, 2010 This first of its kind anthology offers the English speaking readers a unique chance to become acquainted with the leading Dutch and Flemish women writers since the 1880s Covering a representative range of public and private genres from poetry criticalessays travel literature and political commentary to diaries and journals the fifty six texts are arranged chronologically and are accompanied by brief introductions chronologies and brief guides to the authors and works An important contribution to our understanding of modern European literary canon and the long march of feminist history and literature Dutch ed Schrijvende vrouwen 978 90 8964 216 5 Critical Theory to Structuralism David Ingram, 2014-09-11 Philosophy in the middle of the 20th Century between 1920 and 1968 responded to the cataclysmic events of the time Thinkers on the Right turned to authoritarian forms of nationalism in search of stable forms of collective identity will and purpose Thinkers on the Left promoted egalitarian forms of humanism under the banner of international communism Others saw these opposed tendencies as converging in the extinction of the individual and sought to retrieve the ideals of the Enlightenment in ways that critically acknowledged the contradictions of a liberal democracy racked by class cultural and racial conflict Key figures and movements discussed in this volume include Schmitt Adorno and the Frankfurt School Arendt Benjamin Bataille French Marxism Black Existentialism Saussure and Structuralism Levi Strauss Lacan and Late Pragmatism These individuals and schools of thought responded to this modernity crisis in different ways but largely focused on what they perceived to be liberal democracy's betrayal of its own rationalist ideals of freedom equality and fraternity Heritage Comics Auctions, Dallas Signature Auction Catalog #817 Ivy Press, 2005-06
