incompatible with a Christian one is simply wrong. Some Christian understandings of reality do conflict with some scientific understandings. But a thoroughly rational Christian understanding of the origin and history of the universe will be informed by the best scientific theories and the facts founded on them. This book weaves a narrative of the origin and history of the universe from the perspective of contemporary science with a Christian understanding of God and of God's role in the origin and history of the universe. At the center of this integrated narrative is the view that God, who is pure unbounded Love, is Creator; the zest for life in the universe comes from God, and God is the source of Truth, Beauty, and Goodness in the universe. God is amazed and delighted at what God and the world has created. God is saddened by ways creatures have fallen short of pure unbounded Love, Truth, Beauty, and Goodness, and God's pure unbounded Love keeps on trying to persuade all creatures toward Truth, Beauty, and Goodness. Scientific World, 1978. Research in action. Conny Almekinders, Leni Beukema, Coya Tromp, 2023-09-04. Research in action engages the researcher who wants to live up to the challenges of contemporary science and to contribute to innovation and social change. This ambition to contribute to change raises many questions: How to define the main target group of the research? What role does this group play in the research? Which methods of data collection are most appropriate? Who are the commissioners of the research and do their interests match with those of the prime target group? How to deal with power relations in research situations? What do these issues mean for the relation of researcher with the people in the researched situation? And last but not least, what does it all imply for the researcher, him or herself? These questions have to be dealt with in situations in which the design and organization of the research is still open, but also in situations where these have already been preformatted through the research proposal or earlier developments. In any case, they have to be framed in the theoretical considerations of what is science. This book aims to assist scholars and practitioners who would want to deal with this kind of research and questions. The book does not offer recipes nor fixed scenarios. It presents a series of practical research cases and theoretical insights by experienced researchers who themselves struggled with what is probably the most meaningful questions of the science today. The practical examples of research in action are from different disciplines and include themes from health care, policy research, agricultural technology, and education in Northern and Southern context. Four leading themes of research in action are introduced in the first chapter. In the last chapter, the editors return to the dilemmas research in action and try to clarify the options and responses that are possible in different situations.
