Schools of Opportunity Adam York, Kevin Welner, Linda Molner Kelley, 2023 The National Education Policy Center's Schools of Opportunity project was designed to highlight public high schools that are using research-based practices for closing opportunity gaps in student learning. The project recognizes schools that are working to address the needs of all students regardless of their zip codes or their school's average test scores. By embracing a shift away from the nation's myopic focus on standardized test scores, the program's focus is on inputs: access to equitable exemplary policies and practices that students experience every school day, not outcomes. This follows from research findings that schools alone cannot fix the problems created by the stark inequalities in our society. Instead, schools should be expected to do their part by responding to inequities with research-based practices. The book features case studies of schools that demonstrate key criteria that other schools can emulate, such as an inclusive school climate, support for language minority students, performance-based assessment, teacher professionalism, a commitment to detracking, and supports for students in need. Schools of Opportunity builds an argument for shifting the way that excellent public high schools are recognized and built. Book Features: Provides accounts of school reform jointly told by researcher-practitioner teams connecting current research with successful efforts of educators to create outstanding learning environments; Brings together the voices of principals and school leaders who share stories of how their work has unfolded in their school district and state contexts; Identifies the school leadership and teacher practices that close opportunity gaps for student learning and what it takes to implement them. Contributors: Dwane Chapelle, Janet Eckerson, Lourenco Garcia, Matt Garcia, Kristen Goessling, Kimberly Grayson, Jill Gurtner, Ted Hamann, Ann Ishimaru, Mark Larson, Julie Mead, John Murphy, Jeannie Oakes, Jeff Palladino, Derek Pierce, Jenifer Rayne, Kellie Rolstad, Lorrie Shepard, Kate Somerville, Michelle Valladares, Kathryn Wiley. International Perspectives on Teaching Rival Histories Henrik Åström, Elmersjö, Anna Clark, Monika Vinterek, 2017-04-04 This book presents a survey of approaches to dealing with rival histories in the classroom, arguing that approaching this problem requires great sensitivity to differing national educational and narrative contexts. Contested narratives and disputed histories have long been an important issue in history teaching all over the world and have even been described as the history or culture wars. In this book, authors from across the globe ponder the question: what can teachers do and what are they doing to address conflicting narratives of the same past? and puts an epistemological issue at the heart of the discussion: what does it mean for the epistemology of history if it is possible to teach more than one narrative? Divided into three sections that deal with historical cultures, multicultural societies, and multiperspectivity, the chapters of the book showcase that dealing with rival histories is very much dependent on context and that diverse teaching traditions and societal debates mean that teachers' abilities in engaging with the teaching of rival narratives are very different The volume will be compelling reading for students and researchers in the fields of education history sociology and philosophy as well as practising teachers Maven in Blue Jeans Steven L.
